Westchester, Pa., Nov. 28.—Six persons are dead and forty-one injured as a result of the wrecking of the Western express on the Pennsylvania railroad six miles from here early today. Believed Fatally Hurt.

All of those injured are believed to be fatally hurt.

The wreck occurred at Glen Loch, a flag station six miles from here. The express, which left New York City at 6 30 o'clock last night and the Broad Street station, Philadelphia, at 10 48 o'clock, was composed of two engines, a postal car, a combination baggage car and smoker, one day coach and nine sleeping cars

As the train was running along a level stretch of track at high speed, the first engine jumped the track, from what cause has not been learned The second engine, the postal car and the combination car remained on the track, but the first five sleepers left the tracks and rolled down a twenty-five-foot embankment.

All those killed were in the cars that went over the embankment.

Relief Train Arrives.

Immediately word was wired for relief trains and physicians A train with many doctors and a large staff of nurses arrived from Philadelphia to assist in caring for the injured

By daylight the tracks were cleared and traffic was resumed.

The wreck occurred a mile west of Glen Loch, where the main line crosses a low grade freight line known as the "Trenton cut-off." A broken rail is believed to have been the cause. The first engine jumped the rails and rode the ties for a short distance. The weight of the locomotive tore through the bridge ties and the heavy train was swept to either side of the second engine

HOSTILITIES AT CHATALJA

Their Resumption Is Expected at Any Hour.

PEACE NEGOTIATIONS ARE BROKEN OFF

Demand for Surrender Dropped by Aviator.

Unique Method Utilized To Make Demand on the Turkish Commander at Adrianople—Young Turks Are Prepared To Discard Their Constitutional Form of Government for Imperial Absolutism.

Vienna, Nov. 28—Peace negotiations between Bulgaria and Turkey have been broken off, and a resumption of hostilities at Chatalja is expected, hourly, according to a telegram to the Alemdar Jurnal from Constantinople.

Another dispatch from the Turkish capital said the negotiations were deadlocked.

An Unusual Method.

Sofia, Nov. 28—The most unusual method ever adopted in warfare to summon the surrender of a beleaguered city was brought into use by General Dimitrieff, today, when he had an aviator drop a note into Adrianople, calling on General Shurki Pacha, the commander there to surrender Flying from Mustapha Pacha, the aviator dropped the message addressed to the Turkish commander into the streets of the besieged city, the dispatch having previously been weighted by a piece of lead tied to it with a string.

Turks fired upon the aviator, but neither he nor his machine was struck.

May Abrogate Constitution.

Vienna, Nov. 28.—That the present Turkish government is prepared to abrogate the Turkish constitution established by the Young Turk movement, four years ago, and substitute imperial absolutism, is the remarkable intelligence telegraphed to the Neue Freie Presse by its Constantinople correspondent today. He stated that his information came from an authoritative source and that the grand vizier and other Turkish officers had concluded, after a four years' test of constitutional government, that the Turks were not suited for it.

The Polish committee in the Austrian reichstag published a bitter attack on the Austrian jingoes today, declaring that there is no justification for a European war. The committee charges that the powers are throwing obstacles in the path of diplomacy, and that fears for a satisfactory international settlement are daily increasing.

Russian Invasion Reported.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 28—Russian soldiers are reported to have invaded Turkish Armenia from Batoum to protect Christians from further massacres. Word was received from Tiflis, by way of Odessa, that several hundred men, women and children have been killed by Kurds.

Will Stand by Allies.

Athens, Nov. 28.—Greece will stand by the other states in the Balkan confederation, and the Greek government will subscribe to any peace terms favorable to a majority of the allied states.

This announcement was made today by Premier Venizelos to refute reports of friction in the Balkan league, because Greece is seeking modification of the terms imposed on Turkey, which the Bulgars and the Servians are willing to make.

Ordered To Return.

Constantinople, Nov. 28.—Orders were issued today to the marines and bluejackets, who were landed from the foreign warships in the harbor, to return to their ships. This order followed notice from Grand Vizier Kiamil Pacha to the commanders of the ships that the Turkish government was now able to handle the situation.

Try To Capture Vessel.

Constantinople, Nov. 28.—Starving refugees in this city today tried to capture a merchant vessel entering port and seize the foodstuffs on board, but were prevented by marines from the British warship, Hampshire.

The Hampshire landed marines in small boats, who drove off the refugees as they were about to board the merchant ship.

Packey is Clever.

Indianapolis, Nov. 28—Packey McFarland, the Chicago lightweight, outpointed Harry Donohue of Pekin, Illinois, in a ten-round bout here last night.

Eight Round Draw.

Detroit, Nov. 28—Jack White, of Chicago, and "Battling" Mantell of Buffalo fought an eight-round draw here last night.

LAWYER PATRICK NOW FREE MAN

Receives Full Pardon Today from Governor.

SPENDS A DOZEN YEARS IN PRISON

Convicted of Murder of William Marsh Rice.

The Latter Was an Aged Texas Millionaire, Who Died in His Home in New York City Under Most Suspicious Circumstances—Patrick's Great Fight in the Courts for His Life and Liberty.

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 28.—Sing Sing prison doors opened for Albert T. Patrick at daybreak today, and he went forth a free man to again join his wife, who is awaiting him in New York city. Governor Dix had pardoned the man.

In 1900 the aged millionaire, William Marsh Rice, died in his New York city home under suspicious circumstances, and Patrick was convicted for the murder and sentenced to be electrocuted. By successive appeals he staved off death while in the Sing Sing death house and finally, the Friday before the week during which Patrick was to be electrocuted, Governor Higgins commuted the death sentence to imprisonment for life.

Now Governor Dix sets Patrick free, and in doing so made this statement: "There has always been an air of mystery in this important case. Quoting from the minority opinion, the atmosphere that surrounded the defendant showed that a fair and impartial trial was scarcely possible. I trust that Mr. Patrick will devote his energies to a complete vindication of his declared innocence. During the past year I have given much consideration to this case, and am convinced that the defendant is entitled to have a full pardon."

In the court of appeals Patrick's conviction was affirmed by a vote of 4 to 3, and it is the minority opinion of the court of appeals which the governor refers to

John T Milliken, a wealthy banker and broker of St. Louis, who married Patrick's sister, has worked indefatigably for Patrick, and it was his influence with Governor Higgins which saved Patrick from the death chair. Ever since then Mr Milliken has continued his efforts in Patrick's behalf.

Story of Rice's Death.

William Marsh Rice, a childless widower, died in the Berkshire apartments, 500 Madison avenue, on the evening of Sunday, Sept. 23, 1900. He had been a recluse His only attendant was his valet, Charles F. Jones, who was arrested for murder, turned state's evidence and said that he had chloroformed Rice at Patrick's behest. Jones received immunity and was released Since then his wanderings have been vaguely reported, and not long ago it was said that he had made a confession exculpating Patrick

Patrick was a New York lawyer. It was alleged at his trial that he and Rice had never known each other, although Patrick and his wife have always contended that the millionaire had become acquainted with Patrick's skill as a lawyer and admired it.

In 1896 Mr. Rice, then 84 years old, had made a will leaving the bulk of his fortune to the William A. Rice institute "for the advancement of science, art and literature," in Texas, to which he had already given more than $1,500,000. The theory of the prosecution was that Patrick and Jones entered into a conspiracy to forge a new will giving Patrick half of the estate, and that the will having been made, they then conspired to kill Rice.

NELSON GETS A HOLIDAY PARDON

Columbus, O., Nov. 28.—Paul R. Nelson, 32, alias Richard Hunter, alias Richard Prescott, serving a life sentence in the penitentiary from Toledo for entering an inhabited dwelling at night, was granted the Thanksgiving pardon by Governor Harmon. He served a previous term in the reformatory at Ionia, Mich., for shooting a fellow student while he was attending school at Lansing. He has been in the penitentiary since Feb. 13, 1908.

White Slavery Alleged.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 28.—An indictment charging Dr. Merrill M. Edwards of Utica, a veterinary surgeon, formerly of Cleveland, with having enticed Amy Pierce, 15, a telephone girl of Utica, to this city, where he deserted her, was returned by the grand jury here. Edwards is in the Licking county jail at Newark, where he was taken after his capture at Utica.

Burned on Load of Hay.

Youngstown, O., Nov. 28.—Robert Edwards, Sr., a farmer, was seriously burned here when sparks from a locomotive set fire to a load of hay, causing the team he was driving to run away. Edwards was caught between the retaining wall of a viaduct and the burning load of hay and held fast until rescued.

School Examiners Abusing Power.

Columbus, O., Nov. 28. — State School Commissioner Miller declared county boards of examiners were abusing their power to issue eight-year certificates entitling the holder to teach school anywhere in the state. He tentatively proposed having certificates issued by the state instead of by county boards.

MR. BENNETT MAY HEAD THE SENATE

Secretary Likely To Assume Chair in Case of Deadlock.

Washington, Nov. 28.—A deadlock in the effort to elect a president pro tem. of the senate when that body assembles for its regular session on Dec. 2 may result in choosing Charles G. Bennett, secretary of the senate, to preside over the upper house perhaps until the present congress ceases to exist on March 4, 1913.

FOGEL SAYS HE'LL RESORT TO COURTS

As the Result of His Expulsion from the National League.

New York, Nov 28.—Unless the courts come to his assistance, Horace S. Fogel, former president of the Philadelphia baseball club, will be unable to represent that or any other club in the councils of the National league. Fogel, who has been on trial before the members of the league at the Waldorf, charged with attacking the honesty of the game and the integrity of President Thomas J. Lynch and several umpires, was found guilty after a long session and was practically expelled from organized baseball. In rendering the verdict the league stood 7 to 1 for conviction, but the magnates were extremely careful in wording the penalty in order to guard against court proceedings, which Fogel says will be instituted immediately.

Incidentally the league made C. W. Murphy of Chicago vote against Fogel on all points after Murphy, to possibly avoid defending charges too, had offered a profuse apology for the part he played in getting Fogel into his present mess. The league also amended the constitution in such a way that in future there will be no question of jurisdiction in dealing with undesirable delegates or club owners.

When a copy of the resolutions was submitted to Fogel, who was awaiting the verdict outside the star chamber, he dictated this statement: "That is just what I wanted. We knew when we went into the meeting that we had a picked jury against us. The entire affair is National league baseball politics Fortunately, my constitutional rights are safeguarded in common law."

THE CETONE CHARGE HELD TO BE ABSURD

Lines Defense Will Pursue To Free Dayton Senator.

Columbus, O., Nov. 28.—Absurdity of the assumption that Senator George K. Cetone would accept a bribe to vote to advance a bill of which he was the author and in which he was deeply interested; an alibi; Senator Cetone's reputation and integrity; unreliability of state's witnesses

These are to be the lines of defense Senator Cetone's counsel will pursue in their effort to free the Montgomery county solon of the charge of accepting a bribe of $200 from a Burns detective to influence his vote on the Cetone-Whittemore insurance bill.

Of these four defenses, it is expected the first named, that Senator Cetone would not seek a bribe to vote for the bill which he introduced, will be urged as the strongest proof that the Dayton solon is not guilty of accepting $200 from Detective Smiley, as both Smiley and the dictagraph say he did.

PEACE PARLEY LIKELY TO FAIL

Turks Refuse To Comply with the Demands

MADE ON THEM BY THE ALLIES

The Tension, However, Is Very Greatly Lessened.

The Belief Grows That Germany, France and Great Britain Will Succeed in Averting a Conflict Between the Powers—Ottomans Are Making a Stubborn Resistance Behind the Tchataljа Lines.

London, Nov. 28 — News that has been received from the various European capitals seems to make it probable that the negotiations for peace between the Balkan allies and Turkey, reported to have been started at Bagheheish, Turkey, will not result in the peaceful conclusion of hostilities that had been hoped for

The fact that the Turkish forces have so long been able to hold Adrianople against such terrific odds, and the fact that the Montenegrins have not been able to pierce the defenses of Scutari, gave the Turks some ground for refusing to comply with the demands of the allies that these two towns as well as Janina be surrendered. The strength of the Turks' position behind the Tchataljа lines also gives him courage in refusing to submit to the demands of the allies.

But in spite of these dark predictions as to the failure of negotiations, the tension throughout Europe has been perceptibly lessened.

The belief that Germany, France and Great Britain will succeed in averting the conflict toward which they seemed for a few days to be tending, has grown. Diplomats see a reason to be especially hopeful over the report that Austria-Hungary has agreed to allow Servia a seaport on the Adriatic as well as to the question about the future of Albania. If this comes true, a dangerous pressure has been removed.

The reports which come here from Constantinople are not encouraging to those who are looking for the immediate solution of the Balkan question by the peace allies now said to be deliberating. Nazim Pasha and one of the representatives of the porte rejected the proposals submitted and in turn gave out counter proposals.

Turkish reserves are arriving daily from Asia Minor. They are well fed and well clad and full of vigor

Under these circumstances the Turkish negotiators will refuse to discuss the surrender of Adrianople, Scutari and Janina. No greater error could have been committed than to attempt to impose such hard terms on a country which still possesses vast military reserves and which only needs to carry on the war another month to counteract the splendid victories of the allies and turn the tables on Bulgaria. Greece is wisely moderate and will benefit correspondingly.

MORE ARRESTS IN BOOK CASE

Seven of Eleven Indicted Are Apprehended.

THE SUM INVOLVED FULLY $5,000,000

Later Developments In Rare Book Fraud.

Federal Government Uncovers Some Damaging Facts Against the Accused, Indicating That the Members of the Anglo-American Authors' Association Have Been Active in Selling Campaign.

New York, Nov. 28.—Developments came thick and fast in the $5,000,000 book fraud case which the federal authorities have uncovered, implicating James J. Farmer and others of the Anglo-American Authors' association, formerly the Keller-Farmer company, of this city. Here are some of them:

Three more men were arrested by postoffice inspectors, making seven of the 11 indicted by the federal grand jury that have been apprehended.

The Anglo-American association maintained an European agency, of which a woman was the head. She collected stationery from well-known foreign hotels and upon these were written the so-called "fictitious millionaire" letters to be distributed later among wealthy and gullible persons who were regarded as possible customers.

Colonel Roosevelt's works were one of the most popular sets dealt in. In some instances $20,000 was paid for the "autographed" collections when the real value was less by several thousands.

The aged woman of this city, who paid $131,300 for books to the Anglo-American association never saw a single volume, it is charged. Her entire fortune has been lost in operations extending over six years, and she is now penniless and so ill that she has not been brought into the case.

Federal officers have been dispatched to several eastern cities, expecting to arrest the four indicted men who have not been found so far.

Wealthy Victims Shy.

Postal authorities and the United States attorney's office here estimated that the total sum involved in the case would reach over $5,000,000. They are having difficulty, however, in bringing here many wealthy persons who they allege have been defrauded.

One young man is said by Inspector Swain to have killed himself as the result of scandals which he was accused of when he refused to pay for books he had bought.

Wealthy men in New York and Philadelphia are said to have found themselves involved in "affairs" with notorious women following their refusal to pay for books they had purchased and to have been obliged to give up on threats of exposure of their behavior at "wine suppers."

The men who have just been taken into custody are George M. Fisher of New York, one of the agents of the Anglo-American concern, and William Cooper of New York, another agent. The third was arrested in Boston by the federal authorities there. He is Norman Nathan, also an agent. Fisher was released in $5,000 bail. Cooper was released in $2,500 bail.

James J. Farmer, head of the association, by arrangement with District Attorney Boyle gave increased bail for $1,500 When he was arrested, immediately after the conclusion of the suit Mrs. Bird had brought against his company, he was released in $3,500 bail, but it was decided later to increase this amount.

The other men who have been arrested are Glen Farmer, son of the head of the association; Samuel H. Scott and Colonel William H. Hartley of the New York Athletic club, all three traveling agents of the concern.

CINCINNATI MAN LOCKED IN A CAR

Found in Starving Condition, Half Dead from Burns.

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 28. — William Murphy, who says his home is in Cincinnati, was found in the railroad yards starving and half dead from burns He said that he was traveling with two other men in a boxcar and that they robbed him, knocked him unconscious and then set fire to some straw in the boxcar and left him to burn to death. He came to and managed to stamp out the fire. Then he found the door of the boxcar locked, and says he has been without food for six days. The man will probably die.

THE GANGSTERS ARE SENTENCED

Gun Men Must Die the Week of January 6.

FOR THE DEATH OF HERMAN ROSENTHAL

Precautions Taken To Prevent An Outbreak.

A Great Crowd Gathers in New York To Hear Sentence Imposed on "Gyp the Blood," "Lefty Louie," "Whitey Lewis" and "Dago Frank"—Letters Received Declare Attempt To Rescue the Quartet.

New York, Nov. 26.—With the court-room guarded by deputy sheriffs, policemen and detectives, all heavily armed to prevent any outbreak or attempt at rescue, Harry Horowitz, alias "Gyp the Blood," Louis Rosenberg, alias "Lefty Louie," Frank Muller, alias "Whitey Lewis," and Frank Cirofici, alias "Dago Frank," were today sentenced to die in the electric chair the week beginning January 6, for the murder of Herman Rosenthal.

Just as the eastern gun men were being arraigned for sentence, "Humpty" Jackson, one of the most notorious gun men in New York and three of his aides were found by Police Lieutenant Dominick Reilly a few feet from the court-room. They were searched, but as no weapons were discovered upon them, they were turned loose with the warning that they would be arrested if they returned to the courthouse.

This was the first time in half a century that four men have stood at the bar at the same time here to receive the death sentence. Sentence was imposd upon the young gun men in the criminal branch of the supreme court by Justice Goff, who also sentenced ex-Police Lieutenant Charles Becker to death for ordering Rosenthal's assassination.

Guard Is Picked.

Twelve deputy sheriffs, the pick of Sheriff Harburger's staff, each armed with two revolvers, were selected to guard the condemned men to the death house at Sing Sing. These extreme precautions were taken as a result of the numerous warnings and threatening letters received by the sheriff and to prevent any attempt at rescue.

Some of the letters received by Harburger said that an attempt would be made to rescue the prisoners from their guards in the streets of this city. A detail of twenty policemen, under Captain Tierney, of the Elizabeth Street station, guarded all the entrances and exists of the court-room and detectives passed through the mobs in the corridors and on the outside to keep the gangsters under surveillance. Sheriff Harburger repeatedly promised "this won't be another Hillsville affair."

Long before 10:30, the hour for Justice Goff to open court, an enormous crowd had gathered. The police had a hard time keeping the surging throng from rushing the doors. Many East Siders and gangsters were under the watchful eyes of the detectives.

Policemen had to open a lane for traffic in Center street, where scores had gathered in an effort to see the four gun men cross the "Bridge of Sighs" from The Tombs to the courthouse.

Attorney Wahle, counsel for the four men, was in the court-room and held a whispered conference with his clients.

A tense hush fell upon the room when the four young gangsters entered and men and women spectators leaned forward to watch how the men received their sentences. They were prepared for the death notice, however, as thew knew beforehand that they would be sentenced to the electric chair.

Justice Goff lost no time in formalities, but ordered the prisoners to the bar.

Attorney Wahle moved that a new trial be granted his clients. This was overruled.

Muller and Cirofici were the first two sentenced. Justice Goff then imposed sentence upon Horowitz and Rosenberg. The oldest was sentenced first. After being sentenced, the four gun men were turned over to Sheriff Harburger for the trip to the death house at Sing Sing prison.

TO REHABILITATE REPUBLICAN PARTY

Great Gathering To Be Held in New York Next Month.

New York, Nov. 26.—Republican leaders of this and other states have begun a movement for the rehabilitation of the Republican party, which is to practically start while the Progressives, headed by ex-President Roosevelt, are at Chicago planning for the permanence of the Progressive movement. The Progressives are to assemble in Chicago on Dec. 10.

Meanwhile the regular Republicans are not idle. It was announced that a great gathering of Republicans from all states is to assemble at the Hotel Astor on Dec. 14 and that President Taft is to be present.

Besides President Taft, there are to be present Senator Root, Senator Lodge, Senator Burton of Ohio, and others.

It was stated that Dan R. Hanna of Ohio is not to go on with the Progressives, that he was only in the movement to help defeat Taft, and that object having been accomplished, Mr. Hanna is to return to the Republican fold.

Every woman whose husband is a failure is sure he would have been a howling success had he followed her advice.

LABOR LEADERS ARE ACQUITTED

Ettor, Giovanitti and Caruso Found Innocent.

ARE TRIED FOR DEATH OF A MILL OPERATIVE

The Trial Intricate in Detail and Spectacular.

The Jury in the Case in Which the Italian Labor Leaders Are Tried at Salem, Massachusetts, Reaches a Decision Monday Evening, but the Judge Refuses To Receive It Until Today—Men Thank Jurors.

Salem, Mass., Nov. 26—Joseph J. Ettor and Arturo Giovannitti, leaders of the Industrial Workers of the World, and Joseph Caruso, the trio tried for the death of Annie Lopizzi, a woolen mill operative, during the Lawrence strike last January, were acquitted today.

The verdict of "not guilty" was reached last evening, but Judge Joseph Quinn told the jurors that he would not receive a verdict until today.

The case was given to the jury at 12:43 yesterday, after one of the most important and spectacular trials in which labor has ever been involved.

According to the instructions to the jury neither Ettor nor Giovannitti could not have been found guilty of murder in the first degree. They were accused of arousing a murderous frenzy by their speeches, which resulted in the mill woman's death.

So intricate were the chief threads of the case that labor leaders, who had been following it, declared a verdict of guilty would have established a precedent which would make effective labor strikes in the future an impossibility.

When the verdict was announced, the three prisoners, one after another, arose and thanked the court and the jury for the verdict. Ettor said:

"I not only thank you for myself, but I thank you on behalf of the working class in America."

Clerk George then read an indictment for Joseph Caruso for assault with intent to kill. He was told to plead guilty or not guilty to this charge.

Caruso Released.

"Not guilty," was the answer.

Caruso was released without bail. An indictment was also read against Joseph J. Ettor and Caruso for conspiracy together with William Haywood. They both pleaded "not guilty" and were released in $500 bail, which was furnished by their attorneys.

The jury reached its verdict at 6:40 last evening, after being out six hours. The three men accused retired without knowing that a verdict had been agreed upon.

Court opened at 8 o'clock today so that the verdict might be opened sooner than the usual opening of court.

In the court-room, when the verdict was rendered, were only a few women, including Mrs. Caruso and Elizabeth Gurley Flynn, a prominent Industrial Worker of the World workers. Mrs. Caruso, with tears streaming down her face, threw her arms around the neck of her husband and clung to him when he was declared innocent.

There was no attempt at a demonstration in the court, but when the three acquitted men appeared on the courthouse steps a crowd of 400 people greeted them with cheers. Men threw their arms around the necks of Ettor and Giovannitti and kissed them. The three men were followed by the crowd to the railroad station.

"The first thing I do," said Ettor, "will be to go to Washington to see my father. When he heard of my arrest he had a stroke of paralysis. He has been practically helpless ever since. I am going down there and try to cheer him up."

LITTLE GIRL FALLS AND BREAKS NECK

Lillian Maskey Is Victim of a Fatal Accident.

Mrs. Lillian Welch, of east Center street, was called to Nevada, Tuesday morning, by the death of her little niece, Lillian Maskey, who fell and broke her neck at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Orland Maskey of that place, about 6 o'clock, Monday evening.

The child, who is about two years of age, was playing with a curtain, became tangled in the muslin and fell, striking her head against a dresser. She died almost instantly of a broken neck. The mother, who found her a few minutes after the accident, is almost prostrated.

The parents, two sisters and a brother survive. The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock.

REGULAR MEETING IS HELD BY THE COUNCIL

Some Business of Importance Is Given Attention.

POLICE AND FIREMEN WANT HIGHER WAGES

Matter Is Referred to a Committee. City Engineer Submits a Plat for the Opening of a New Street Across the Erie Right-of-Way. Settlement of Stafford Claim.

All of the councilmen were present at the regular meeting, Monday evening. As a result of the auditor and city engineer failing to complete a couple of bond ordinances, the auditor requested a meeting of the council later in the week. An adjourned meeting will be held, Friday evening, and some of the business was carried over.

Clerk E. E. Blazer read a communication from Safety Director M. A. Mickley in which the latter stated that he had been requested to ask for an increase in pay for the members of the police and fire departments. The communication was referred to the finance committee. A petition for a gas light at the intersection of the second alley south of Columbia street, and the alley between Main and State streets was referred to the street-light-and-gas committee. A petition for an arc light at the intersection of Franconia avenue and Center street was also referred to the committee.

To Open New Street.

City Engineer Scott submitted a plat showing the most desirable place to open a street across the Erie right-of-way from Waterloo street to Uncapher avenue. According to the plat, the opening of the street will be an extension of Wood street. Councilman Smith stated that the opening of the street at the point proposed would be of great benefit to the residents of that vicinity, and a great protection to school children. The report of the engineer and Councilman Smith, who were to investigate the conditions, was accepted and placed on file. The city solicitor was instructed to prepare a resolution for the purpose of starting condemnation proceedings and present the same at the next meeting.

Matter Settled.

With a view to preventing litigation, a resolution was adopted authorizing the payment of $50 to Ora Stafford for injuries sustained and damage resulting from his driving into an open sewer on Pleasant street several months ago. The accident was the result of there being no warning lights at the sewer.

Member Clary wanted to know from council if there was any way to get the crossings of the Big Four railroad at State, Main and Prospect streets fixed so they would be passable. Member Clary said the raising of the tracks and heavy ballast put on the road made it almost impossible to drive across the tracks. He also asked if something could not be done to eliminate the blocking of the crossings by westbound trains. The city engineer satisfied Member Clary's first question by stating that the work of planking the crossings was to start Tuesday. After a short discussion relative to trains holding the crossings, council adjourned to Friday night.

DISAGREEMENT IN GIBSON CASE

The Jury Unable To Reach a Verdict.

IS OUT FOR FIFTEEN HOURS AND A HALF

Fails To Agree Twice and Is Sent Back.

The Final Report Is Made at 11:15 This Morning—Attorney Accused of Murder of Countess Szabo Creates a Scene by Attempting To Address the Jury—Mrs. Gibson Weeps Upon Hearing News.

Goshen, N. Y., Nov. 26—The jury in the case of Burton W. Gibson, accused of the murder of Countess Rosa Menschik Szabo, on Greenwood lake, July 16, last, announced its ability to agree in the supereme court.

The jury made its final report to the court at 11:15, it then having been out fifteen hours and thirty-five minutes. Twice before it had reported a disagreement, but each time had been sent back by Justice Tompkins to continue its deliberations.

Foreman J. L. Hicks had announced, when the second report was made at 9:47, that there was a possibility of a verdict being reached, so when word was sent into court that the jury was ready to report again at 11:15 there was a flutter of excitement.

Gibson was again taken into court from his cell and, despite the likelihood of a verdict, he was calm.

Mrs. Gibson was not in court, having been ordered to bed an hour before by her physician. The news of the disagreement was kept from her upon orders of Dr. O'Reilly, one of the medical experts for the defense, under whose care she lies.

Gibson Creates Scene.

Gibson created a scene in court just after Foreman Hicks had announced the disagreement. As Justice Tompkins was thanking the jurors for their efforts the defendant jumped to his feet exclaiming:

"Your honor, may I make —."

"No," snapped the judge.

Gibson persisted in addressing the jury, growing more and more excited as he proceeded. Finally he subsided and Justce Tompkns completed his remarks. Attorney Elder later explained that Gibson only wanted to ask the jury to make another attempt to arrive at a verdict.

Gibson's iron nerve was shattered as he was led back to his cell. His eyes were downcast and he shook from head to foot.

It was regarded as certain that Gibson would never again stand trial for murder, but charges of fraud are pending against him in New York county. At noon Dr. O'Reilly said it would be safe to inform Mrs. Gibson of the disagreement and this was done. She went at once to the jail and flung herself into her husband's arms weeping inconsolably.

SOLVING PROBLEMS OF AMERICAN FARMER

New Departure for International Stock Show.

MUCH INTEREST IS ADDED TO THE SHOW

Many Important Questions as to the Proper Raising of Stock Will Be Discussed by Men in a Position To Select Methods and Give Reasons for So Doing.

Much interest and value has been added to the International Livestock exposition by the announcement that, with a view of aiding in the solution of a number of important questions in stock farming, and to contribute toward reduction of the high cost of living, there will be inaugurated during its next great annual show, to be held at the Union Stock yards of Chicago, November 30 to December 7, 1912, a series of important lectures and demonstrations.

Leading educators and successful stockmen have been invited to deliver these lectures during the week of the show upon topics of vital interest to the breeders, feeders and farmers of America. For this purpose a large convention hall, with equipment to illustrate the lectures by stereoptican views or live animal exhibits is under construction in the main amphitheater.

As a foretaste of what will be afforded the visitors, the following educators will make addresses during exposition week: Dr. A. D. Melvin, U. S. Department of Agriculture; H. J. Waters, president Kansas Agricultural college; Professor Herbert M. Mumford, University of Illinois; Professor H. R. Smith, University of Minnesota; Professor C. S. Plumb, Ohio State University; Dr. J. A. Kiernan, United States department of Agriculture; Dr. A. S. Alexander, University of Wisconsin; Professor E. A. Trowbrilge, University of Missouri; Professor W. A. Cochel, Kansas State college.

It is also intended to incorporate a course of domestic science at the show and the best known authorities in the country will be present to explain the importance of this department. Special instruction will be given the housewife on the best way of preparing the cheaper cuts of meats into nutritious and palatable dishes for the table.

These new features will aid immensely to the educational value of the show, not only to the farmer and stockman, but also to the farm wife, to the meat industry and the city visitor.

They call the whole thing a university course at the price of a railroad ticket. That is for the farmer and his family, who will get from this great show new ideas and aspirations which will make them proud of their calling and bind them closer to the farm.

DEATH CLAIMS ISIDOR RAYNER

Senator from Maryland Dies Monday Morning.

END COMES AFTER A PROTRACTED ILLNESS

Members of Family Present at Final Moment.

Senatr Rayner, a Lifelong Democrat, Was Born in Baltimore in 1850. He Is Elected to the Senate in 1905 and Again in 1911—Death Is Due to Acute Neuritis—Occurs in Washington.

Washington, Nov. 25—Senator Isidor Rayner, of Maryland, after a protracted illness, died today of acute neuralgia. Members of the family had been summoned to the Rayner residence before midnight, and they remained in the sick room until the end came. They were Mrs Rayner, William B. Rayner, son of the senator, Albert Rayner, a brother from Baltimore, and Robert Wells and wife, the latter a niece of the senator.

The senator had a relapse Saturday night and, on awakening Sunday morning, was much weaker. He rallied, however, on Sunday, and was able to recognize some of his relatives.

Shortly after 7 o'clock last night Senator Rayner again lapsed into a stupor From that time on his strength waned, and he was unable to take even the slightest nourishment.

Senator Isidor Rayner, a lifelong Democrat, was born in Baltimore in 1850, being educated at the Universities of Maryland and Virginia.

In 1904 Senator Rayner ran for the senate and defeated Louis McComas, Republican, for the term commencing in 1905. He was reelected six years later and, had he lived, his term would not have expired until March 3, 1917.

Funeral Wednesday.

The funeral of Senator Rayner will be held at 12:30 Wednesday from the Rayner home here. President Taft sent the fololwing message of condolence to Mrs. Rayner:

"Mrs Taft and I send you our most heartfelt sympathy in your great sorrow. Senator Rayner and I were warm friends and I feel deeply his loss to Maryland and the country lose a conscientous, brave and able public servant.

"Sincerely Yours,

"William H. Taft."

When informed of the death of death of Senator Rayner Speaker Clark of the house of representatives said

"Senator Rayner was a brilliant and able man and I regret that he is dead."

Senator Bacon, vice president pro tem of the senate, today appointed the following committee of senators to attend the funeral of Senator Rayner

Smith, of Maryland, O'Gorman, Culberson Johnston, of Alabama; Richardson, Sutherland, Root, Smith, of Georgia; Smith, of Michigan; Martin Williams, Crane, McCumber, Georgia; Clark of Wyoming; Curtis, Brandegee and Swanson.

Wilson Regrets Death.

Hamilton Bermuda, Nov. 25.—Woodrow Wilson, upon being informed of the death of Senator Rayner said

"I learn with sincere regret of the death of Senator Rayner. The country has lost an able, patriotic servant, whom it will be very difficult to replace."

A Republican Successor.

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 25.—Through the death of Senator Isidor Rayner, Maryland's senior senator, the state will have one Democrat and one Republican in the upper house of congress when that body meets in December.

As the Maryland legislature does not meet until January, 1914, Governer Goldsborough, who is a Republican, will appoint his successor to serve until the legislature meets. The governor will in all probability appoint a Republican to the position.

William P. Jackson, of Salisbury, it is said, is the governor's choice as Rayner's successor. He will probably be appointed within the week, so as to take his seat at the opening of the next session of the senate.

Claims Democrat Majority.

Washington, Nov. 25.—According to Senator Curtis, of Kancas, who visited the White House today, the senatorial tie following the death of Senator Isidor Rayner will be broken by the election of one and possibly two Democrats in Illinois and the appointment of another in Tennessee.

"J Ham. Lewis has been elected by the popular vote in Illinois," said Mr Curtis, "and I think there will be another senator from that state. Matters in Tennessee appear to be favorable at present, and I hope they will soon be able to reach an agreement which will add one more to the Democratic roll in the senate. I have no doubt that the next senate will be Democratic by about three or four majority."

Railway Company Pays for Hay Destroyed by Fire.

THE $10,000 DAMAGE SUIT OF ANNA WILSON

Plaintiff Sues Ohio & Western Lime Company for Damages Suffered by Husband Being Scalded to Death. Matter Is Settled—Some Local Court Proceedings.

The two suits of John H. Clark, administrator of the estate of Frederick F. Miller, deceased, Jacob Miller and John Dickason, against the Chicago & Erie Railroad company, have been settled out of court. The plaintiff sought to recover $360 judgment in each case for the alleged loss of hay which, it was claimed, had been set on fire by locomotive sparks. Altogether, it was alleged sixty tons were destroyed. The trial of one of the suits had been set down for Tuesday.

The $10,000 damage suit of Anna Wilson, as administratrix of the estate of Curtis Wilson, against the Ohio & Western Lime company, has been settled out of court. The plaintiff's husband, Curtis Wilson, was scalded to death when employed by the defendant company as a stationary engineer, April 11, 1910.

The widow brought suit, March 30, 1911, through Mouser & Moloney, and the trial of the cause was set down for Monday. A settlement was effectel, Saturday afternoon.

W. A. Sands against Henry J. Lower is the tile of a suit on a promissory note appealed by the defendant from the court of Justice Charles W. Haberman. The plaintiff got judgment for $104.80 in the justice court.

The wife says that her husband was cruel and abusive. Once, she says, he jerked a chair out from under her and she fell to the floor. He then assaulted her. Finally, she says her husband abandoned her and their child.

The plaintiff asks for a decree of divorce and custody of the child. She further asks that he be barred from interest in the real estate inherited by her from her father, Thomas Storer, and that she be decreed the household goods located at No. 1017 west Center street.

The oldest cause on the common pleas court docket was settled out of court, Monday. It was a suit to marshal liens and was entitled E. Anderson against Benjamin E. Tonguet, Michael Tonguet and others. It was started through Attorney H. Edmund Hill, January 4, 1897. Michael Tonguet was prosecuted on a charge of burning down a house involved in the suit, the prosecution being conducted by Grant E. Mouser, who was then prosecuting attorney, and who was instrumental in settling the suit to marshal liens out of court, after a lapse of nearly sixteen years. The land described in the petition is located near Agosta and is now owned by Christian Houk.

MANY KILLED IN TERRIFIC BLAST

Explosion Occurs at the Corn Products Company,

LAST MONDAY IN WAUKEGAN, ILLINOIS

Fourteen Bodies Removed and More Are To Come.

Confusion Approaching Chaos Follows Disaster—Flames Break Out and Work of Rescue Is Rendered Very Difficult—Cause of the Explosion Not Yet Ascertained. Many Employes Are Women.

Waukegan, Ills., Nov. 25.—From twenty-five to thirty girls and men were killed in a terrific explosion this afternoon in the big plant of the Corn Products company in Market street near the lake. The detonation was terrific and shocked the entire city. Both sides of the building were blown out and the walls fell.

There were between 800 and 1,000 employes in the plant at the time. Many of them are women and girls. Confusion approaching chaos followed the disaster.

A squad of policemen was hurried to the scene and all the city's fire-fighting apparatus followed. Flames broke out in the wreckage and spread so rapidly that rescue parties could make no progress in their first attempts to explore the wrecked building.

The wind, which was almost blowing a gale, made the work of rescue doubly dangerous.

The explosion occurred in the dry starch mill. Whether it was caused by dust, or whether one of the large boilers "let go" can not be learned.

At 2:30 o'clock fourteen bodies had been taken out.

Twenty Are Hurt.

New York, Nov. 25.—Twenty men were hurt this afternoon and two are missing in a fire in the Union Sulphur works at the foot of north Tenth street and, driven by a strong wind, spread to the Brooklyn Eastern district terminal, the Pratt works of the Standard Oil company and menaced the Brooklyn Union Gas company, a plant across the way.

Estimates of the damage run up into hundreds of thousands of dollars. As the flames at their way along the water front to Newtown creek, the huge oil tanks were emptied to prevent explosions.

REDUCTIONS MADE BY COMMISSIONERS

Allowance of Various County Officials Are Cut Down.

REDUCTIONS ARE DUE TO NEW FEE MEASURE

The County Treasurer Is the Only Official Allowed the Full Amount Asked—Much Extra Work in the Collection of Taxes—The Amounts Allowed for Clerks and Deputies.

Saturday afternoon, the county commissioners made big reductions in the amounts asked by the majority of county officers for their deputies and clerks in 1913.

The reductions were due to the new fee law which provides that only a varying percentage of fees earned by each officer shall be expended by the official for the salaries of deputy and clerks.

In compliance with the provisions of the fee law the commissioners accordingly chopped down materially some of the figures for allowances asked by officials.

Probate Judge William S. Spencer asked for $2,200 for the salary of Deputy John M. Brigel and clerks. Deputy Brigel is paid $100 a month. The judge wanted additional allowance this year because of the constantly growing business of the juvenile court and the necessity for more clerk hire. The commissioners, however, only allowed him $1,-424.98.

Auditor Jay Spaulding asked for an allowance of $2,460 and was allowed $2,192.45. His deputy, Carl Postle, receives $100 a month. Auditor Spaulding's clerks are Miss Eva Allen and Budge Decker.

Treasurer Robert S. Dembaugh asked for an allowance of $2,100 and the commissioners allowed him that much in view of the extra need for clerk hire in that office on account of the treasurer now collecting the personal delinquent tax. Treasurer Dembaugh's deputy, Harry S. Elliott, receives $100 a month.

W. W. Klinefelter, clerk of the courts, asked for $1,077.76 and was allowed that amount for clerk hire.

Sheriff John G. Stark asked for $1,200 to pay his deputy, Cornelius Breen, but the commissioners could allow him only $779.42.

County Recorder Edward F. Tittelbaugh asked for $1,750 and the commissioners allowed him only $1,-131.50.

Sheriff John G. Stark will have to go before the common pleas court and get his allowance increased in order to pay the salary of his deputy. He was compelled to do that last year.

AUTOMOBILE STRUCK BY PASSENGER TRAIN

Machine Is Carried Seventy-Five Feet by Train.

TWO YOUNG MEN ARE IN THE AUTOMOBILE

Both Men Escape with Their Lives, but the Machine Is Crushed to Kindling Wood Between Train and a Box Car—The Men Are Injured, but Recovery Is Assured.

LaRue, O., Nov. 25.—[Special]—Dale Rhoads, aged about twenty-two years, a son of Albert Rhoads, of near Meeker, and Irvin Brown, aged about twenty-five years, a son of A. C. Brown, or northeast of LaRue, were badly injured when the automobile in which they were riding was hit by Big Four westbound passenger, No. 45, Sunday evening at 9:15 o'clock.

No. 45 is a new train and was making its first run, Sunday night, and it is supposed the young men were unaware that a train was due at that time. They claim that they did not hear the bells.

The men were returning home in a five-passenger car belonging to A. C. Brown, and were crossing the Main street crossing as the passenger was pulling in. It hit the machine and carried it, with its occupants, seventy-five feet down the track. The automobile hit a box car standing on a siding and was broken into kindling wood. The young men were thrown out and their escape from death is miraculous. Brown was thrown to the side of the track where he was picked up unconscious by Earl Winslow. His back was sprained and his legs badly bruised. Rhoads was thrown underneath the machine and was pulled out by Frank Moore, a youth. He received a bad scalp wound and a fracture of the skull. Both men were in the machine when it was crushed between the box-car and passenger.

The injured men were carried to Manley's restaurant and Drs. N. Sifritt and F. Vanorsdall summoned. Brown was later removed to his home in an ambulance and Rhoads brought to Marion Monday morning, where he was operated on at the Marion City hospital by Dr. H. Rhu, assisted by Drs. Sifritt and Vanorsdall.

DASH THROUGH WALL OF FIRE

Men in Auto Save an Indian Boy from Death.

FLYING TRIP MADE WITHOUT A STOP

Many Reported To Be Dead in Burned District.

Wrapping a Wet Blanket Around His Body, J. B. Brown Drives Machine Through Flames, When South Dakota Fire Is Raging, and His Companion Snatches a Doomed Boy to Safety.

Pine Ridge Indian Agency, S. D., Nov. 25.—A prairie fire which devastated a section of the country 100 miles long and ten miles wide swept over the Sioux reservation Saturday and burned itself out Sunday in the breaks of the river, far to the east.

The town of White Owl is reported to be entirely destroyed, and dozens of home-steaders were burned out.

Bear Cut Meat, a fourteen-year-old Indian boy, became surrounded by flames and was on the point of being burned to death when J. B. Brown of Valentine, Nebraska, wrapped a wet blanket around his body and drove his automobile through a sheet of flames to where the boy stood.

Brown's compandion grabbed the boy and pulled him into the car, and the automobile, without a stop, shot on through the rear wall to safety.

SCHRANK IS LODGED IN INSANE ASYLUM

Man Who Shoots Colonel Roosevelt Taken to Hospital.

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 25.—John Schrank, who shot Colonel Roosevelt, was today taken to the Northern hospital for the insane, at Oshkosh, to which institution he was committed by Judge Backus, after having been found insane by a commission of physicians.

A girl sends the following formula which she declares she has used with excellent results for oily hair and dandruff: Pour half a gallon of water on half a pint of salt at night. Let it stand overnight. The next morning boil well for ten minutes, strain and let it stand for twenty-four hours. Repeat the boiling and straining, then bottle. Twice a week is often enough to apply to the scalp. Do not use too much—just enough to wet the scalp, but not the hair. Massage the scalp well and the hair will be ready to dress in ten minutes.

Before scaling fish you should dip them in boiling water for a moment; they will scale much more easily.

Oranges, bananas and figs cut up together make a very delicious dessert.

TRIAL FOLLOWED BY MISFORTUNE

Principals in Hyde Murder Case Are Overtaken.

FATALITIES AND ACCIDENTS GALORE

Prosecuting Attorney's Death Is Latest Setback.

Since the Case Is Taken Up, There Are Five Deaths Among Persons Directly Concerned in the Proceedings—Witness Loses His Store in Fire—One Juror Disappears and Another Goes Insane.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 25—Misfortune has overtaken many of the principals in the Hyde murder case. The last fatality was the death of Virgil Conklin, prosecuting attorney, who died Saturday night. The following fatalities and accidents are associated with the Hyde case:

Moss Hunton Swope, executor and advisor, died.

Colonel Thomas H. Swope, died.

Chrisman Swope, brother of Mrs. B. C. Hyde, died.

Hugo Braecklein, who testified he sold cyanide to Dr. B. C. Hyde, lost his drugstore in the fire that destroyed the Rialto building.

QUIGLEY WON'T WED FORMER SWEETHEART

Miss Farley, Freed by Jury, Will Go to California.

Columbus, O., Nov. 25.—According to a statement given out by Ben H. Harmon, manager of the Neil House, where Jerome Quigley is employed as a night clerk, Quigley will not marry his former sweetheart, Cecelia Farley, the state bureau clerk, who was acquitted on a charge of murdering A. E. Zollinger, an advertising solicitor, last spring in Franklin park.

When Miss Farley's attorneys were making their arguments to the jury, it was stated that, if acquitted, the girl and Quigley would be married and leave the city. It appears from the hotel manager's statement that Quigley at that time was sitting at the girl's side at the request of the girl's counsel and that he has had no communication with her since himself was released from jail shortly after the tragedy. He was held as a suspect at first, then as a witness.

The jury in the celebrated case returned a verdict freeing the girl after deliberating for several hours. Miss Farley, with her mother, will leave in a few days for Los Angeles, where her father resides.

DR. L. F. VOKE,

WILL MAKE HIS
202d VISIT TO MARION
MONDAY, December 2
HOTEL COMFORT,
10 A. M. to 8 P. M. One Day Only

PRACTICE LIMITED
To the Treatment of Chronic Diseases by Home Methods.

L. F. VOKE, PH. G., M. D.
Graduate, Ohio State University, Starling Medical College, American College of Optometry, Eight years of College and University training. Nearly twenty years experience in the treatment of CHRONIC DISEASES of MEN AND WOMEN.

Symptoms Most Common to chronic sufferers are weakness, nervousness, despondency, sleeplessness, discouragement, lack of ambition, failing memory, confusion of ideas, poor circulation, headache, dizziness, brain and nerve exhaustion, palpitation and fluttering of the heart, weak and trembling limbs, worry, fear, pains in head, back, abdomen or joints, cough, variable appetite, chills and flashes of heat, shortness of breath, swelling of hands and feet, dry or clammy skin, coated tongue, bad taste in mouth, gas in stomach and bowels, weak back, soft and flabby flesh, faintness, impaired vision, pimples, bloating and many other symptoms incident to diseases peculiar to men and women. The vast majority of men and women are deficient in some respect. Many are not exactly sick, but some chronic affection is sapping their vital forces. They attend to daily duties but life has become a drag and lost much of its pleasure.

Every Afflicted Man and Woman should heed these symptoms. They are nature's warning that something is wrong—a cry for help. Temporary relief is not sufficient. The cause must be discovered and removed.

Remember, that nearly every chronic disease, if taken in time, can be cured by proper home treatment. Neglect only leads to more serious results. Do not put off a matter of such vital importance. Success or failure in life depends on your physical and mental condition. No matter what the disease, its name or nature, if it is chronic and susceptible to home treatment you are invited to call or write regarding it. Everything confidential. Consultation, examination and advice free.

DISEASES OF WOMEN
Ninety per cent of women suffer from some form of female weakness. Many, in secret, are living miserable, unhappy lives. Do not let modesty destroy your health. Simple home treatment, of the proper kind, if used in time will prevent serious complications that may lead to the necessity of dangerous operations and expensive hospital treatment. Dr. Voke's "Treatment at home plan" is not a "cure-all" remedy. Each case is treated separately with remedies adapted to each individual. No humiliating examinations. No operations. Remedies are harmless and can be used in privacy. More than one-half of Dr. Voke's patients are women. Write if you cannot call. Consultation free and confidential.

DISEASES OF MEN
More rot is printed and more fraud is practiced on this class of diseases than all others. Those unfortunates surely are entitled to a square deal. Dr. Voke wants every man who is weak, nervous, broken down, discouraged or suffering from any disease caused by ignorance, excesses, contagion, incompetent treatment or neglect to read his book on sex hygiene entitled "A Physician's Advice to the Sex." Contains information that every parent and young man should know, also directions for home treatment that will cure many afflicted men without doctors, drugs or expense. This book does not advertise any doctor, medical firm, or patent medicine. Mailed in plain sealed package on receipt of 10 cents, stamps or coin.

EYES TESTED FREE
Many chronic troubles are attended by defective vision or eye strain. Glasses fitted and furnished.

Why Consult Dr. Voke?
He has made regular monthly visits to this community for fifteen years and has established a permanent practice and reputation. His practice is limited to chronic diseases and he has spent practically all his life in the study and treatment of them. He is in the prime of life (forty-five) and at his very best to do good work. His practice consists mainly of long standing cases who have failed to obtain satisfaction elsewhere. At least three-fourths of his patients were sent to him by former patients. If he thinks he cannot help you he will say so. His treatment is easy to use and requires no detention from occupation, family or home. He does not depend on "cure-all" remedies. Each case is treated separately with remedies adapted to each individual. Injurious stomach drugging is avoided. His internal remedies are mild and harmless. Special directions are given each case regarding diet, bathing, habits, etc. When necessary, special directions for massage are given and other local treatments are devised and furnished to meet the needs of each case.

REMEMBER
That Dr. Voke invites searching investigation of his work and methods, that his best references are his many friends and patients, the result of fifteen years practice in this community. That his charges are so fair and reasonable that the poorest working man or woman need not hesitate to apply for treatment. Most important of all, do not put off treatment until complication or complete collapse comes. Oftentimes a few days of sick-a-bed illness costs more than a complete course of treatment.

NEW COUNTERFEIT NOTES UNEARTHED

Character of the Counterfeits and Means of Detection.

Three new counterfeit notes have been unearthed by the United States secret service and Chief Wilkie has issued a warning to the public.

The counterfeits are a $10 national bank note on the First National bank of Ashley, Pennsylvania, and $10 gold certificates and a $20 gold certificate.

The National bank counterfeit is said not to be unusually deceptive and its portrait of McKinley has a smeared appearance. The $10 certificate counterfeit is a fair production on good quality paper, although the imprint of the seal is rather faint and ragged and the lathe work is poor, while the $20 counterfeit is a reissue with slight changes of a former spurious note, discovered last April.

PROCEEDINGS IN THE COMMON PLEAS COURT

Minor Matters Occupying the Attention of the Court.

SARAH BENZLER FILES A DEMURRER IN CASE

Husband Seeks To Have an Alimony Order of Court Modified—Judge W. E. Scofield Approves the Report of Commissioners in a Partition Case—Hearing Postponed.

In the suit brought by Christian Benzler to modify the $500 annual alimony of his divorced wife, Sarah Benzler, the defendant has filed a demurrer, setting up that her former husband's petition does not set up sufficient facts to constitute a cause of action.

In the partition suit of Frank Riley against Almeda Rhoads and others, the report of Commissioners Charles Uncapher, John Hogan and John W. Last has been approved and the premises ordered sold. The farm, which is located in Big Island township, is appraised at $14,400.

Friday, Judge William E. Scofield approved the report of Commissioners George H. Dutton, Israel Irey and Felix Kiger, in the partition suit of Sebastian Keil against Elizabeth Keil and others, and ordered the premises awarded to Sebastian Keil at the appraised value of $8,000, the election to take of Joseph Yeager being withdrawn. The property is located near Owens.

Postmaster John J. Roberts, of Prospect, Saturday, was made the defendant in an alienation suit for $10,000 damages brought by Thomas B. Smith, a former rural mail carrier out of the Prospect office. He claims that, while he was carrying his mail route, the postmaster visited his home above the postoffice and stole his wife's affections.

Postmaster Roberts is about fifty five or sixty years old, and has been postmaster at Prospect for the past seventeen or eighteen years.

In his petition, filed by Conley & Johnson, Smith alleges that Roberts' attentions to his wife, who is about forty-five years old, caused a big scandal in the village. As a result, he says he has been damaged in the sum of $10,000.

Postmaster Roberts has a wife and several children.

Because he refused to pay the funeral expenses of his wife, who died when she had a suit for divorce pending, Zodock F. Postle, doing business under the trade name of Postle-Curtis, undertakers, Saturday afternoon, through Crissinger & Guthery, brought suit against the widower, Benjamin Scofield, of Morral.

The undertakers sue to recover judgment for $277 for furnishing a casket, robes, flowers, carriages, etc. Mrs Scofield died last March.

A suit to recover $120 judgment for a binder was begun in the court of common pleas, Saturday, by Lewis & Harmon against Wesley Roberts. The petition was filed by Mouser & Moloney. It sets forth that, August 21, 1912, Roberts entered into a contract to buy the binder from the International Harvester company, and that it was delivered. October 25, the contract was transferred to the plaintiffs, who aver that Roberts refuses to pay.

Eva K. Gorenflo against James H. Bentley and others, is the title of a suit, begun in the court of common pleas by Attorney H. Edmund Hill, Saturday. The plaintiff sets up a one-third interest in fifty-one acres in Salt Rock township as a daughter of the late James J. Bentley.

The defendant has been given leave to answer by December 7, in the civil action of Maggie K Watkins against Eliza B. Watkins.

QUESTION IS RAISED IN JUSTICE'S COURT

Does Nature of Errand Here Make Colucci Immune.

SERVICE OF SUMMONS DECLARED IRREGULAR

Attorney Charles Justice Claims Frank Colluci Is Immune from Service When He Comes to Marion To Meet His Attorney. Seven Suits in Justice's Court.

Is Millionaire Frank Colucci, an Italian banker at Lima, immune from service in local suits instituted against him when he is here counselling with his local attorney?

That is the question put up to Justice Charles W. Haberman by Attorney Charles L. Justice, who, as Colucci's attorney, filed motions asking that service be quashed because of alleged irregularity, mainly in that particular.

Attorney Justice contends that the law protects his client from being served in a suit or suits in foreign jurisdiction when he is in that jurisdiction counselling with his attorney or attorneys. For that reason he asks that the alleged service secured in the local justice court be vacated and held for nought.

Seven suits were started in Justice Haberman's court against Colucci to recover money alleged to be due as many Italians employed by the Erie and Chicago & Erie Railroad companies. An ancillary attachment was issued against any property belonging to Colucci in the possession of the Erie and Chicago & Erie Railroad companies. Colucci then came to Marion to consult with Attorney Justice about the matter and while he was in the attorney's office he was served by Constable James F. Ullom, of Justice Haberman's court. Colucci produced receipts showing he had effected a settlement in four of the claims against him. The suits still pending against him are those of Grall Gaceno, Samuel Russe and Pasquale Conechino, Italians The Lima Italian banker is connected with the Erie's department for employing Italian laborers.

Burch, administratrix of the estate of her son, Elmer Burch, against John D. Owens Son, has been advanced on the docket. The supreme court probably will hear arguments in the case in January. JOHN RICHARDS HOME IS THE SCENE OF FIRE

Roof of an Espyville House Is Damaged.

Espyville, O., Nov. 23.—[Special.]—About 1 o'clock, this afternoon, the home of John Richards, which is situated near the scene of the double track construction work of the Erie railroad, caught fire from the sparks showered upon it by a steam shovel engine which is used in the work, it is claimed. The thirteen-year-old daughter of Richards gave the alarm. The roof of the house, which was a frame structure, was badly damaged by the flames. Only a small property loss was sustained. The house was insured.

PREPARING FOR NEW PARCELS POST LAW

Some Things for the Patrons To Bear in Mind.

THE SPECIAL STAMPS TO BE USED ON PARCELS

If Regular Stamps Are Put on Parcels the Packages Will Be Held for Postage—The New Law Will Go into Effect, January 1, and Will Be a Great Convenience.

Postmaster M B Dickerson is getting ready for the inauguration of the new parcels post law, January 1

Here is something that postoffice patrons must remember, the postmaster said Friday

That distinctive parcels post stamps must be used on all fourth-class matter beginning January 1, and that mail matter of that class bearing the ordinary postage stamps will not be delivered, but held and marked "Held for postage"

That parcels will be mailable only at the postoffice and the West Marion branch office

That all parcels must bear the return card of the sender, otherwise they will not be accepted for mailing

Shortly before the new parcels post law goes into effect, Postmaster Dickerson will be furnished with copies of the official post map of the United States This will show the unit of area, in which the Marion postoffice is located as well as the eight postal zones It will indicate the distances on which the parcels post rates of postage are based

At the same time of receiving this great aid to the postoffice, Postmaster Dickerson will also receive the official parcels post publication, which will give supplemental information regarding the parcels post service He will also be supplied with scales of adequate capacity on account of the increase in the weight limit from four to eleven pounds He has already received notice that the scales, together with tape lines, six feet long, for measuring the size of the parcels post packages, will soon be shipped

The Marion office will be provided with a large supply of the distinctive parcels post stamps

To be absolutely sure that a carbolic solution will not burn, use one part acid to twenty parts water

CHAIRMAN DAUGHERTY IS RIGHT.

Chairman Daugherty's position in the matter of Republican appointments, to be made this time until the close of the Taft administration, is everlastingly right, and there is not the slighest occasion for a controversy with Senator Burton. The latter is one of the ablest men in public life, and he acquired new light in the matter of practical politics during the passing year. There can be no party victories without organization, and there can be no effective organizations unless these bodies have the say concerning political rewards. We assume that organizations will commend and support worthy men, otherwise they would not deserve recognition.

Chairman Daugherty undertook a difficult campaign that was made all the more difficult because the Republican organization was utterly rended. In many counties the majority of the organization, with faith in Walter Brown and a belief in the ascendency of Roosevelt, was utterly disloyal. Candidates on the state ticket, themselves inclined to disloyalty, opposed a loyalty test, and thereby contributed to their own undoing. None but a lion-hearted campaign leader could cope with such a situation. Daugherty tackled it, applied the test and purged his county organizations and the state committee. The drastic course increased the ranks of the enemy, but it made the loyal forces dependable. So, whatever patronage remains to be distributed, must and will go to the loyal Republicans who have the organization approval Senator Burton will see the wisdom of such a course, and approve. No class of citizens has been so wanting in respect to him as the insurgent crowd. He can hope for nothing from them. Moreover, the Republican party, to go on, must start with the understanding that only the faithful are deserving, until reconsecration has been proven.

There isn't much at stake. It wouldn't be worth discussing except for the principal involved Men who were once Republicans, but betrayed the party in the hope of reward, have no reason to expect any consideration now, and never until their faith is renewed and proven. President Taft would be less a man than we esteem him to consent to reappoint men who labored for his defeat. Senator Burton will not ask such a thing. And Senator Burton will not seek to dispose of such patronage as there is solely for the promotion of his own ambitions. His possibility of reelection rests on the possibility of making a dominant Republican party in Ohio in the next two years. Unless that is possible, his or anybody's success in the Republican senatorial primaries will amount to no more than an empty and fleeting honor.

SUING THE DOCTOR ALL WRONG.

We have no desire to subject ourselves to the liability by contempt of court by undue comment on a case at issue, but we do hope that man who has sued a doctor for damages because he didn't die, doesn't secure a verdict. As we get it, the doctor told him his case was hopeless, so the patient, with rare reliance in his own business judgment, disposed of his property while still among the quick. Then, contrary to the physician's prognosis, the patient recovered, and now he seeks to legally recover the loss which he sustained in disposing of his property. Doubtless he can prove his damage, but a verdict would be against the public welfare If a doctor has to settle every time he errs in prognosis, the doctor will take no chances. If he thinks a case is hopeless, his professional pride will be an incentive to make good We had rather the doctors err, and do so honestly, than be held for damages for errors of judgment. The doctors have enough to be responsible for already. Sometimes they look desperately serious and tell us we are worse than we are, because it is good to cure so serious a case; sometimes, alas! they fail to grasp the gravity of an ailment and the patient dies when the doctor is looking for a recovery. This is because doctors are human, just like other men, and make mistakes, though they seldom admit it.

There will be no improvement to the situation to have the courts establish a precedent of awarding damages for a mistaken prognosis Good doctors make them, very good and honest doctors. The doctor has not yet entered the practice who can infallibly estimate nature's own wonderful power in a specific case. We recall a Marionite who once heard the doctors tell the family he couldn't live till morning, and it so wounded his sensitiveness that he resolved to fool them, and that resolution tided him over the crisis Down at Delaware, years ago, our good friend, Colonel Crawford, was told he had but twenty-four hours to survive, so he decided he would have a farewell square meal of beeksteak and onions. There was no opposition to that horrifying diet, because his hours were numbered. And the colonel ate, and ate freely, and is still walking erect, and reciting interesting tales, a joy among the living. And he ate that beefsteak and onions twenty-five years ago.

No, we don't want the physician coming to us in fear of a damage suit We had rather survive him, and greet him smilingly, as he rides or drives by with the impress of professional superiority.

GROWTH OF EXTRAVAGANT DRESS.

An interesting sidelight on the high-cost-of-living discussion comes in an interview with the venerable ex-Empress Eugenie, of France. Time was when she made the fashions of Paris and the world, and her extravagances were the basis for predictions of a new revolution and "reign of terror." Recently she asked a number of fashionable modistes and costumers to send their models to her that she might examine the latest creations She expressed herself as delighted with the artistic character of the displays, but she was horrified by the prices. "They are incredible, terrible," she said. "Why, when I was on the throne I never paid my dressmaker, Roger, for the most splendid and elaborate costumes, more than $120 And yet I was reproached and criticized for extravagance. Had I paid the prices now demanded for a robe the empire would have rocked in the storm of criticism."

A reader asks a Southern Ohio exchange how long it takes to learn to play the cornet. The nearest we could come to answering a question like that would be to state that we know a fellow who has been practicing eighteen years

A SLIGHT MISUNDERSTANDING.

"I see they have fixed the Panama rates."

"It doesn't affect me. I bought my hat last summer."

TAFT AT THE LOTUS CLUB.

[Dayton Journal.]

"I beg you to believe that in spite of the very emphatic verdict by which I leave office, I cherish only the deepest gratitude to the American people for having given me the honor of having held office, and I sincerely hope in looking back over what has been done that there is enough progress made to warrant me in the belief that real good has been accomplished, even though I regret that it has not been greater"

President Taft so declared himself before the members of the Lotus club in New York, Saturday night. There is little of the braggart in that statement. There has been too little of "tooting his own horn" in President Taft. Perhaps, only perhaps, it is because he has failed to sound his own praises as others have done through a good press agent or by word of mouth that he and his party retire from the helm of state for four years after March 4. But there must be some pride in the heart of the president as he turns over the reins of govenrment to his successor.

What have the Republicans done? Consider.

While population has increased twenty per cent. during the decade. Money in circulation has increased forty-six per cent, savings bank deposits sixty per cent, loans and discounts of national banks eighty-five per cent. Interest on the public debt is $10,000,000 a year less than in 1900. Half the cost of the Panama canal has been met from money on hand. A yearly surplus instead of a Democratic deficit has marked the present administration. Irrigation in its present form was unknown under Cleveland, Hawaii, Porto Rico and the Philippines have been annexed. The navy has been reconstructed on much more powerful lines. The army was never more efficient on a peace footing.

Imports of articles used in manufacturing have doubled. Exports of manufactured articles have more than doubled. Production of coal, tin plate and petroleum has increased 100 per cent. In ten years pig iron has gained fifty per cent. New records are being made in wheat, corn and cotton

Those are only a few things. It is insulting to the intelligence of the American to enumerate what has been done for the individual. It would be pointing out to the average man his ingratitude—that is, if he thinks

Everything is in fine working order—better than ever. There must be some anxiety over what the future holds in store. Fair-minded men will rejoice if the advance made is held. If not, the men who do things, the party that has done things will be founding not far away.

TAFT'S GENEROSITY.

[Richmond Evening Journal.]

One of the pleasing things of the recent campaign for president is the lack of bitterness in Mr. Taft and his cordial treatment of the president-elect This spirit has further enhanced the respect of the American people for this big, generous-hearted man, who has just been visited by the greatest defeat ever suffered by a presidential candidate His invitation to Mr. and Mrs. Wilson to become his guests at the White House in order that they might familiarize themselves with their new home of the near future was a peculiarly graceful and friendly act, and assures Mr Taft a wide Democratic sympathy when next March he rides down Pennsylvania avenue with Woodrow Wilson by his side, preparatory to turning over to him the reins of government.

Mr. Taft's generosity of thought and broad-mindedness was also given expression last Tuesday night in Washington, when, in addressing the United Daughters of the Confederacy, the president declared that "circumstances have rendered it more difficult for a Republican administration than for a Democratic one to give our southern brothers and sisters the feeling of close relationship and ownership in the government of the United States" Activity of southerners in official life, consequent to Democratic control of the government, he said, would give the South a feeling of partnership in the conduct of the country's affairs that would do much toward eliminating sectional feeling

It would be difficult to withhold admiration for a man who, by his words and his deportment, proves himself to be a genuine gentleman.

A NEEDLESS UNDERTAKING.

Mr. Doster, one of the inspired new legislators from Cuyahoga county, is incubating a bill which will require payment of all wages in cash at weekly intervals, provision also being made that a man discharged or suspended or who quits work shall be paid in full in cash within an hour or his time paid for while waiting; withholding pay for a day is to be made a misdemeanor. This is a bill which, like many others proposed in the name of reform, is not demanded by general sentiment and is mischievous. It would entail tremendous expense upon large employers without resultant benefit to employes. Railroads for instance would have great difficulty in making up their pay rolls weekly and their pay car would be constantly on the road to the destruction of schednles and the interference with traffic. Really it seems that there are some things which could safely be left to employers and employes. A great many of the latter prefer the monthly or semi-monthly pay day, and have adjusted their affairs accordingly. And somebody must pay for the double or triple expense involved, and it will be either the wage-earner or the "consumer." There has to be a limit to overhead expense. But Mr Doster simply wants to be heralded as a "reformer," he does not aspire to be practical.

BATTLESHIPS AND NATIONAL DEFENSE.

[Newark Evening Star.]

Next winter the battleship question will again come up in congress, and to compensate for the shortage of a battleship in the appropriations at the last session the demand will be made for three ships, together with the necessary auxiliaries Turkey is just now an awful example of a nation caught unprepared and the lesson she presents ought to be impressed upon the dullest mind in congress If she could have had command of the sea or a naval force fit to cope with Italy Tripoli would not have been invaded and there would have been no war with Italy If there had been no war the Balkan league of states would not have attacked Turkey. If the Turk had been prepared on land and sea for that attack history would be differently written Unprepared for war, as we are today, Turkey was crushed by her carefully perpared enemies, lost her empire in Europe in less than a month and is now a humble suitor for a peace that will leave her not much more of European soil than a burial plot. That example should be burned into the consciousness of our national legislators.

How one overlooks opportunity! In the same issue of this palladium of liberty we noted in one item that "Aunt Hetty" Green attributed her health and success to eating onions, while in another we were told that the people over on the "marsh" were letting their onions rot in the ground.

THE NEWSPAPER PHOTOGRAPHERS.

Governor Wilson, by his indignant protest and threat of physical action, has called attention to what is becoming a great nuisance—the insolence and intrusiveness of the newspaper photographer. It is a question which has never been solved how far a newspaper may properly go in its search for sensations with which to satisfy the craving of their readers. In the American demand for a free and untrammelled press, there has grown up a spirit of license and an abuse of privilege. In these modern days of illustration, the camera of the newspaper photographer has added horrors to the disadvantages of prominence

A public man is permitted no privacy, and the intrusion of the camera and the espionage of the press extends even to the unofficial members of his family. A person accused of crime is, under the law, presumed to be innocent until proven guilty, but this does not prevent the appearance of his photograph reproduced in the newspapers, in manacles and under guard Often, indeed, the picture is "faked," and false impression as to the character of the accused is created in the minds of the newspaper reader.

Nothing is sacred to or from these photographers, and while we may admire their enterprise, grit and persistence, we may question their taste and their right to ply their vocation at all times and under all conditions The funeral, the wedding, the home-comings and partings, the purely private affairs of those who happen to be "in the public eye for the time," are exploited by these picture-makers and their employes, and there is no defense, no redress. It is reported that certain prominent men who have refused to permit these photographers to have their will with them, have been "converted" through systematic campaigns in which they were constantly being confronted by distorted or "doctored" snap-shots of themselves, and, under such persecution, forced to yield.

In the absence of a law, the whole matter should be made a question of ethics The newspaper should be conducted with a regard for good manners as well as honest purpose. As the licensed critic of the universe, it should be amenable to criticism itself. We are glad Prof. Wilson asserted his right to reasonable privacy when he was by choice living in unofficial retirement, and we hope that his influence will be great enough to start a reform which is much needed.

AUSTRALIA'S JAPANESE SCARE.

[Cincinnati Times-Star.]

Australia, which has had its share of Japanese scares, is confronted with still another.

Witriami, the native king of the Loyalty islands an unimportant French group 1,000 miles north of New Zealand, has gone to Melbourne to sound the alarm. He would have the Australian commonwealth open its eyes to the danger of a rescent upon its coasts, using the Loyalty islands as a base.

The fear which possesses Witriami and which he seeks to communicate to the Australian people apparently is founded upon nothing more substantial than the fact that Japanese are emigrating to the Loyalty islands in considerable numbers and that among them are numerous ex-soldiers. From this he deduces the existence of a plot, first to seize the islands and then to invade Austria. To frustrate this he would have Australia buy the group from France.

Just what the king of the Loyalty islands would gain by the transfer is not clear, but that he expects to gain something may be taken for granted. He is an unusually shrewd and intelligent Polynesian. It may also be taken for granted that if Australia starts in buying Pacific islands to which Japanese, including necessarily many ex-soldiers, are being attracted, it will have its hands full.

The movement of Japanese to lands where their industry will be better repaid than in the overcrowded homeland can be attributed to purely economic conditions. Nevertheless Australia has the best of reasons to be peculiarly sensitive on this subject. It has a vast country to protect and a sparse population with which to protect it It knows that there is not now a British fleet in the Pacific worthy of consideration as compared with the available Japanese naval force Furthermore, it knows that no great British fleet can be sent there so long as the German menace across the North Sea. Australia may be inclined to become unduly alarmed over each fresh Japanese scare, but it must be admitted that the commonwealth has some cause for anxiety.

THE PASSING OF RAYNER.

A great man died when Isidor Rayner died. He was one of the potential leaders in the senate of the United States and he had a talent for constructive statesmanship, which would have carried him far had life and health been spared him He was a scholar of deep learning and culture, an orator of power and distinction, a lawyer of wide experience and ripe attainments. A Hebrew of the orthodox belief, he was gifted with imagery and vision inherent in the wonderful people, tempered and modified by the strong commercial, practical qualities bred by centuries of proscription. And he was a patriot, believing this to be the best country and the best governed under the sun. He reverenced the constitution, and he believed that under it any progress was possible. All the people have lost a faithful, able, talented public servant, but the loss of the Democratic party is much greater. For he would have been counsellor as well as leader, balance as well as motor, guardian as well as champion of the incoming administration

It is all very well for the president-elect to remark sarcastically that no cabinet appointments will be made until he announces them himself, but that will not stop speculation. Guessing upon this subject is a fixed amusement, and the practice affords a cheap and easy way to compliment some risings sons of more or less altitude. And we question if Mr Wilson would really stop the practice if he could The unauthorized suggestion of this or that statesman, in connection with a cabinet portfolio, brings forth comments which are illuminating and may prevent a mistake in policy at the very beginning of the new administration.

The political dopesters have now nominated Bill Finley for everything from superintendent of insurance to United States senator. What William really wants is a job with a fat salary, but with duties which will not interfere with his political diversions. The title is of no consequence.

PARALLEL OF ENOCH ARDEN

Is Found, with Woman Playing Principal Part.

SUPPOSED VICTIM OF THE IROQUOIS FIRE

Comes Out of Hospital To Find Husband Remarried.

Mrs. Ella Mayhew Maintains Her Silence for Nine Long Years After Her Discovery—Is Reunited with Her Daughter, of West Grand Rapids, Michigan, Through Notice in a Newspaper.

Grand Rapids, Wis, Nov 27.—Enoch Arden's self-sacrificing effacement has found a parallel in the prosaic twentieth century, with a woman playing the principal role in the drama.

Mrs. Ella Mayhew, who is said to be a traveling representative of the American Red Cross, and her daughter, Mrs. Sidney Burrows, of West Grand Rapids, have just been reunited, after a separation of nine years, in which Mrs. Burrows mourned her mother as dead, supposing she had perished in the Iroquois theater fire in Chicago, in which about 600 lives were lost.

Mrs. Mayhew, or Maxfield, as her name was at that time, attended the fatal matinee of December 30, 1903, with a friend. When the fire broke out they became separated. The friend escaped uninjured but, as no trace of Mrs. Maxfield could be found but a charred skeleton wearing a ring bearing her initials, she was mourned as lost.

Taken to Hospital.

Mrs. Maxfield was not dead, however. She had been badly injured and taken to the Red Cross hospital in Chicago, where for a long time her life hung by a thread and her mind was blank.

Upon her recovery Mrs. Maxfield learned that, supposing her to be dead, her husband had married again, and her only child, Mrs Burrows, had changed her residence.

Mrs. Maxfield thought it best to conceal her identity under an assumed name, and had become connected with the hospital where she had been restored to health Her existence probably never would have been discovered by her daughter save for the settlement of an estate in which Mrs. Mayhew was interested

Mrs. Maxfield's name was mentioned in the newspapers, and was seen by the daughter, who lost no time in communicating with her mother by long-distance telephone

MARRIAGE ANNOUNCED AND DENIED AT ONCE

Brazilian Ambassador Said To Be on Verge of Matrimony.

New York, Nov. 27—It was announced today at the Hotel St. Regis by a member of the suite of Senor Dominica De Gama, Brazilian ambassador, that he would be married at 7 o'clock tosight to Mrs. Elizabeth Belle Hearn, widow of Arthur H. Hearn, who was the founder of the Hearn stores.

While this announcement was being made, Mrs. Hearn received reporters at her apartments at the Hotel Plaza and denied that she was to be the Brazilian's bride.

Embassy Denies Report.

Washington, Nov 27—The Brazilian embassy today denied that Senor Da Gama, Brazilian ambassador to the United States, is to be married to Mrs. Elizabeth Hearn, of New York

While Senor Da Gama could not be seen and no one at the embassy would state positively whether any engagement existed between the ambassador and Mrs. Hearn, it was denied emphatically that the marriage would take place.

The Confirmation.

New York, Nov. 27.—Two marriage licenses, one calling for a civil ceremony and the other for a religious ceremony were issued this afternoon to Dominca De Gama, Brazilian ambassador to the United States, and Mrs. Elizabeth Belle Hearn, who will be married tonight at the residence of Judge E. H. Gary.

EGG MARKET CORNER TO BE INVESTIGATED

Federal Authorities To Aid Those in the Empire State.

New York, Nov 27.—State and federal authorities will unite in the prosecution of those concerned in cornering the egg market which has boosted eggs to record prices.

The state is investigating to discover the identity of speculators who have stored several hundred million eggs, holding them until later in the season, when they expect to get even higher prices than prevailed today when storage eggs were selling from thirty-five to forty-six cents a dozen, fresh eggs from sixty to sixty-five cents and eggs laid within a radius of fifty miles of the city from eighty to eighty-five cents a dozen.

In some parts of Africa men buy their wives by the pound. In this country it is the husbands who are usually sold.

BIG REDUCTION IN VALUE OF HEARTS

Columbus, O, Nov. 27.—They value broken hearts cheaply in Columbus. In the face of higher cost for everything else there is a reduction in the value of hearts Tuesday a jury in the Franklin county common pleas court gave Anna Duehl a verdict of five dollars against Harry C. Needham. She sued for $5,000 for breach of promise, and the jury, after deliberating twice as long as it took to hear the case, gave one thousandth part of the amount asked.

NEVER FALTERS IN TESTIMONY

McManigal's Memory Proves Marvelous.

REMEMBERS EVERY ACT HE PERFORMS

During His Extended Career as Dynamiter.

State's Witness in Indianapolis Trial Trips Glibly Through a Maze of Facts, Dates and Details and Never Contradicts His Story in Slightest Way—Is Corroborated in Each Statement He Makes.

Indianapolis, Nov. 27.—Ortie McManigal is tripping glibly through the maze of facts, dates, and details of his five years as a dynamiter, on cross-examination by Senator Kern. Not only is the attorney for the dynamite conspiracy defense unable to shake McManigal's story, which took two weeks steady conversation to tell, but McManigal offers extemporaneous corrections of dates and events in the notes of counsel for the defense.

McManigal's memory has proved a marvel to every one concerned. Through five years of traveling about the United States, doing twenty-six jobs of dynamiting, looking up jobs to be dynamited and meeting hundreds of people, McManigal seems to have forgotten nothing.

McManigal has recited and been corroborated in hundreds of different conversations with different persons and groups of persons. He has described personally and has been found to be correct, every one with whom he has conversed about his dynamitings for the last five years.

Knows Every Detail.

McManigal has told the date and hour he left a certain city, over what road he travelled, what hour he arrived at his destination, what hotel he went to and which of his many aliases he used on the register, what he did during every hour of the one to three days he was in a city, how many sticks of dynamite or quarts of nitroglycerine he carried with him, what cache he got it from, whether he dug it up with a spade or kicked the dirt from around it. He has described the scenery of every occasion chronicled, and what landmarks he used in finding his way about. He has detailed his expenses on every occasion and he has told just where and how he did each explosion

Government agents, who have been sent out over the country to corroborate McManigal's story, have found him right in each of the thousands of incidents.

Ortie McManigal said, on cross-examination in the dynamite conspiracy trial this morning, that he did not care much whether he was arrested or not after the Times explosion.

"I expected arrest at any time after the Times explosion, but it was a matter of indifference to me."

"Were you at any time in communication with persons you knew might be interested in your arrest?" asked Senator Kern.

"No, sir, never," replied McManigal.

"I knew I was going to be arrested, but I did not connect with any one nor try to conceal myself."

McManigal said his attitude throughout was one of indifference as to whether he became a professional dynamiter. He said he preferred not to at first, but later lost interest.

Hamilton, Bermuda, Nov. 27.—Woodrow Wilson, president-elect, is greatly pleased with the cordiality shown him in Bermuda, which reached its climax last night, when he was the guest of honor at a dinner given by the governor general, Sir George Bullock.

"It was rather singular," Governor Wilson said today, "for me to entertain Lady Bullock with stories about Bermuda, but she had been here only three weeks. I feel like an old inhabitant, as I have seen so much of the island."

INTERNATIONAL LIVE STOCK SHOW TO OPEN

Great Interest Manifested in Coming Chicago Exposition.

ENTRIES COMING FROM ALL OVER THE COUNTRY

Every Breed of Cattle, Sheep, Swine and Horses Will Be Shown at the Great Meeting. Beginning Next Saturday and Continuing Throughout the Week.

Chicago, Nov. 27.—The international Live Stock exposition of 1912, which will be held at the Union Stock Yards here November 30 to December 7, promises to be the best show the exposition company has yet held

Prizes to the aggregate value of $75 000 will be offered and this has induced a more extensive and versatile entry than has ever been made for any previous show Every breed of cattle, sheep, swine and horses has been entered from every part of the country, and the interest the breeders and feeders are taking in the forthcoming exposition is unprecedented

The day of the inferior animal, the slow feeder and tardy money-getter is passed Stockmen are now breeding for types which yield the best results in the shortest possible time

Styles in live stock have changed just as have styles in dress and other things Along with intensive farming has come intensive live stock breeding and feeding By the application of scientific principals, the steer the sheep and the swine have become more efficient animals They grow to maturity and become fat in half the time required by their plebeian ancestors But there are many live stock breeders who are yet ignorant of how to produce these results and one of the prime objects of the exposition is to show them how it is done

The importance of this annual exposition was emphasized by the Honorable Eugene Davenport in a recent interview

It is a mistake to suppose," said Mr Davenport,"that the promotion of agriculture interests and affects only farmers The truth of the matter is that other people are more interested and more affected by agricultural progress than are the farmers themselves Along the line of livestock husbandry the greatest public need is that the common man should enjoy good animal products at a reasonable price It is a simple proposition, when reduced to its lowest terms but to secure these products at a reasonable price means that every man specializing in live stock must employ every device known and discover many more not known to improve the quality of his product as well as to lessen the cost of production

'To this end, no single agency bears greater results than the bringing together each year, at the International Live Stock exposition, specimens of the best cattle horses, hogs and sheep that the world has been able to produce Not only farmers, but men in all kinds of business enterprise in the country, should support and attend the exposition"

IS LIKELY TO WIN HOUSE CLERKSHIP

Harry R. Young Has Votes Pledged to Control Caucus.

The Columbus Journal, in its column of politics, says:

"Commodore Harry R. Young, assistant clerk of the house, yesterday posted the claim that he had received pledges of support for the clerkship of fifty-one of the eighty-eight Democratic members.

"This information was hailed with delight by lovers of a scrap, as the state organization is working hard for John R. Cassidy, who is State Chairman Finley's candidate, and the clerkship contest is the only one that promises to be a real fight.

The title of "Commodore" is new to Marion friends of Mr. Young, but they will be none the less pleased over the assurance of his election to the house clerkship. The fellows who think they know about politics are saying that if Mr. Young can win out against a candidate favored by Boss Finley, he is entitled to much acclaim, and reverent reception in his home town.

The house clerkship is one of the prize rewards of party victory, is worth $3,000 a year, and affords a great abundance of leisure

Recives Death Message.

Mrs. J. G. Mann, of Mt. Vernon avenue, received word Tuesday of the death of her aunt, Mrs. William H. Wagner, who died very suddenly at her home near Newville, Pennsylvania, Saturday. Mrs. Mann returned only last week from a visit with Mrs. Wagner, who at that time was apparently in fairly good health.

Lettuce can be kept very fresh if it is thoroughly washed, then all the water should be shaken from the leaves and it should be put in a tin pail with very tight cover, then set in a cool place, the lettuce will be crisp and fresh the next day.

LAZY RELIGION

By William T. Ellis.

The International Sunday-School Lesson for December 1 Is "The Lunatic Boy," Mark 9: 14-29.

A church without power to do the works expected of religion, that is the picture presented in today's Sunday-school lesson. It turns one's thoughts to the similarly desolate pictures to be seen all over the land. The importance of much formally organized Christianity is the saddest truth of the world's religious horizon. There are congregations in all parts of the land which have "a form of godliness, but deny the power thereof."

There are communities, like Coatsville, who boast of their religion but which when put to the test of citizenship or morality seem to have ony a thin veneer of piosity over rank marbarism. The country's attention has been called afresh to this little Pennsylvania city by the widely circulated story of a New York poet's attempt to call Coatesville to its knees on the anniversary of the first lynching America has ever seen. He found no shred of penitence in the town made infamous by a monstrous crime. The state of mind at Coatesville continues the same as when the ministers returned from their vacations and, instead of condemning the lynching, issued public statements in condemnation of the press which had reported the lynching. In all this Coatsville is not singular. Throughout the land there are communities whose self-complacent religion shows none of the normal proofs of fidelity. This whole subject is a matter of profound public concern, for it affects the very fundamentals of society. When religion does not do its work, then the state suffers. This present story of the group of disciples impotent in the face of a social need is most pertinent to our day.

After the Revival, What?

The setting of the incident is dramatic. Jesus and the three had been on the mountaintop; there they had undergone the marvelous transfiguration experience. With the ecstatic glow of that hour still suffusing their beings, they descended to the plain below. It was a rude awakening for them to find awaiting them the sick and the needy, and the sordid mob with all its littlenesses and ignobilities.

What a jolt that was for the exalted three disciples. Their heads were still in the glory clouds; the voices of Moses and Elijah, and the greater Voice out of the cloud, were still ringing in their ears. The transfiguration vision of the revealed Messiah was before their eyes. Then of a sudden they were plunged into the thick of things in the every day world.

Their experience is like that of a man who goes from ardent revival services to the scoffing associates and petty details of his daily tasks in the work-a-day world. It is so easy to be religious in the atmosphere of a revival meeting. Nevertheless, the proof of genuine religion is ability to live and thrive and do the work proper of a Christian in the atmosphere of this present world It is vain to try to withdraw from society or to rail at society in self-righteous detachment. The leaven belongs in the lump. The proper sphere of godliness is the world, to make it godly. The transfiguration experience of Jesus and John and James and Peter was to demonstrate its power right down on the lowlands amid the unsympathetic crowd who had not seen the cloud or heard the voice or beheld the transfigured Christ.

A Father's Indictment.

Grim and dreadful is the suggestion of the episode as the father led his stricken boy to Jesus Himself, and, pointing to the disciples said, "These Your disciples have failed They could not do the work which everybody supposes characterizes you and your disciples." As a chorus to the father' indictment can be heard the open rejoicings of the scribes and scoffers. The healing power of Christ's church had failed in the eye of the multitude.

The father himself was in a sore plight His son, an epileptic, called a lunatic in one version, was dreadfully afflicted All other help had failed, and he had been brought to Jesus. His own story is, "Master, I brought unto Thee my son, which hath a dumb spirit: and wheresoever it taketh him, it dasheth him down; and he foameth, and grindeth his teeth, and pineth away; and I spoke to Thy disciples that they should cast it out; and they were not able."

Present-day parallels present themselves to our recollection Here is a minister who preached for years to an eminent bank president who proved to be an embezzler and a rogue. What kind if gospel had that man been hearing that he could go on complacently through the years robbing the widow and the orphan? Here is a Sunday-school teacher, one of whose boys is now an indicted murderer. Yonder goes a man wearing the clanking chain of dishonor and disgrace, at whom a church had all the chance in the world. He says that it drove him away because of petty jealousies. I hesitate to cite other instances of the sort known to every reader.

The theme is a dark one, and no man can speak with assurance and definiteness upon it. How much responsibility for the boys and girls who go wrong belongs to their parents and families and teachers and churches, who can say? I heard one of the district attorneys of a great city say, in private conversation recently that nine-tenths of the fallen women whose cases he had investigated blamed their departure from virtue upon an unhappy home life. One shudders before the outreachings and parallels of this ancient father's indictment of the disciples who failed to do the work that belonged to their office.

What Is the Matter?

A cynical jest reports concerning a certain magnificent city church that a passer-by said, "They have everything in that church except religion." The modern organizations of Christianity have worldly wisdom, they buy the most costly apparatus; they erect great buildings, there is no stint to the money that is given for the cause of religion If dollars could save the world the job would be done in a jiffy. It is always possible to get money for Christian work, to estab ilshaotsc-ershrdlmfwybgkq to establish a costly choir, to install stereopticons and moving pictures, and to advertise in the daily newspapers—these methods are common. The church never had so many business-like, worldly-wise and clever ministers as today.

Mr. F. W. Ayer, the famous advertising man, said to a group of Philadelphia ministers the other day that there were ministers in the city who knew more about the art of advertising than he whose business it is. Still there is lack of power. The church is not healing lives as it should. The foul are not being made clean, the crooked are not being made straight, the sad are not set to rejoicing, the hungry of heart are not drawn to the services of the church. What is the matter? Who can make reply The answer is the same as it was in the case of the disciples who failed, "All things are possible to him that believeth." The lack of the church is the lack of spiritual power, which is in essence a lack of simple faith.

The Emancipated Victim.

Whatever might be wrong with the disciples, there was nothing the matter with the Master Himself. The church may fail in much of her work, but the fault is not with her Lord. When the father took his son to Jesus a great deliverance was wrought, to the wonder of all beholders. The tender Christ, who seemed to seek the most intimate contact with those whom He would serve, took up lad by the hand and raised him up, sound in body and clear in mind. When the wondering disciples asked why they could not do the same, the answer came, "This kind can come out by nothing save by prayer." The lesson was one of trust. Jesus proceeded to teach it in the familiar words, "Verily I say unto you, if ye have faith as a grain of mustard seed, ye shall say unto this mountain, Remove to this place and it shall remove; and nothing shall be impossible to you."

The entire story of the lesson is a teaching upon faith. It was a reminder to His disciples that their power was utterly dependent upon their faith Where men trust greatly, they triumph greatly. In a rescue mission I once heard the leader say to rows of drunkards, "The Keeley cure has failed you, now try the Calvary cure." There is evidence which no man can question that the drug habit and the liquor habit and evil temper and all the other low passions may be subjected by the Christ, whose power is commanded by faith.

To revitalize and make efficient our churches, we need, not more money, not more sophistication, not an improvement of our telehone system and of our electric lighting and of our musical equipment, of our card index system. It is more the faith which Jesus sought sedulously to teach his disciples. The need of needs is for a return to the simple essence of our faith. When Christians go to their knees in supplication they will be able to sing the song of jubilation. Union with Christ is the one supreme secret of Christian conquest

"This is the victory that overcomes the world, even our faith."

SPEAKS OF FATHER AND THEN DROPS DEAD

Unusual Feature in the Death of David A. Cone.

A singular feature in connection with the sudden death of David A. Cone while at work on a foundation for a new house on Hane avenue, Monday afternoon, was that he had just been talking to fellow workmen about people dropping over dead. He spoke about his father, David O. Cone, a shoemaker, dropping dead and stooped over to pick up a cement block and collapsed. He died, as stated in Monday's Star, before a physician arrived.

When Dr. J. B. Taylor pronounced the man dead, workmen told him about Cone having just spoken about his father's sudden death from heart failure. Death was due to paralysis of the heart.

Mr. Cone was sixty-four years old and had passed the greater part of his life in Marion. He had twice been married. His first wife, who was formerly Mrs Lydia Jones, died about two years ago. His second wife, formerly Mrs Catherine Greenbaum, of Marysville, to whom he was married October 12, 1911, survives him.

The funeral services were held at the Cone residence on Polk street, Wednesday at 1 o'clock.

FIT FOR BASKET-BALL BUT NOT FOR SCHOOL

Surprising Ruling of the State Building Inspector.

BOARD OF EDUCATION IS GIVEN A SURPRISE

Discussion of Coming Bond Issue Election—Board of Education Is Commended for Action by a Local Secret Order—Business Taken Up at a Meeting Monday Evening.

Why is the third floor of the old Central school building safe for running, leaping, tearing basket-ball players, but dangerous to the little pupils of the first and second grades sitting quietly in their seats during the greater part of the school day

That is a question over which school board members pondered at Monday night's meeting, yet the state's chief building inspector, Thomas P Kearns, in a letter to Mrs. A. M. Hutchinson, clerk of the board, gave authority, under his own signature, for basket-ball playing on the third floor, which he had condemned for school purposes.

To be sure, Chief Inspector Kearns cautioned in his letter against overcrowding and allowing the public to attend the games, but the fact nevertheless remained that he gave his sanction to the sport in a place which he had declared unsafe for school purposes after a personal inspection, although a committee of well known Marion builders, after a personal investigation, held to the contrary, and said it was absolutely safe.

Under the circumstances, the school board did not give its sanction to basketball on the third floor. No action was taken.

Surprise for Board.

Mrs. Hutchinson had written the letter to the state's chief inspector at the request of High school students and she read the inspector's reply to the board. Board members were greatly surprised at Mr. Kearn's action in granting the students the right to play the game in the building.

Following the meeting a board member said:

"After this I do not believe the state can compel us to abandon the Central building for school purposes, especially in view of the strong verdict of the committee of Marion builders, that the building is absolutely safe. Mr. Kearns has committed a grievous blunder."

As usual it was considerably after 8 o'clock when the minutes of the previous meeting were read, all members being present.

Several communications were read, including one from Architect Frank L. Packard, of Columbus, who wanted to prepare tentative school building plans and to conduct a publicity campaign before the $100,000 bond election, December 3.

Mrs. J. W. Freeland, Marion county chairman of the Anti-Tuberculosis league, was granted her written request to placard the city's school rooms on Tuberculosis day.

The $300 bond of Mrs. N. L. Gebhardt, the new clerk of the board of city school examiners, was approved.

The American Warming & Ventilating company, of Toledo was allowed $500 on its contract. As the heat regulation is not altogether satisfactory, the sum of $975 was held back.

A Letter to the Board.

A letter commending the board of education in its action in providing additional accommodations for pupils was read. It was signed by Richard M. Miller, councilor, and W. A. DeLong, secretary of Lime City Council, No. 206, Jr. O. U. A. M. The letter commended the board for its action of October 28, when, in reality, it failed to take action at the time and only rented additional quarters a little over a week ago.

In the letter the two officers of the fraternal order said that their order "watches very closely the individual action of the members of the board and has always tried to support such persons at elections as they believe will, as a board, act for the best interests of our schools." They also commended the board "in seeing the stars and stripes float over the school buildings each and every day when the weather permits."

Bills allowed amounted to $1,831. They included $400 to the Johnson Service company, and $500 to the American Warming & Ventilating company.

The building-and-ground committee was authorized to cancel and rewrite one-third of the board's fire insurance. Hereafter, instead of the fire-insurance falling due at any time, one-third of the whole will be due December 1 of each year.

Robert J. Pennell, chairman of the buildings-and-grounds committee, made a motion that an architect be employed to prepare tentative building plans and to receive $50 compensation and five per cent. of the contract price, if the contract was awarded. In making his motion, which was seconded by Member H. Edmund Hill, Member Pennell declared that if the bond issue did not carry the board could get $42,000 with which to build anyhow. He said that something had to be done and stated his belief that the $100,000 bond issue would carry.

But Members Pennell and Hill were the only ones favorable to employing an architect before the bond election, and Mr. Pennell's motion was withdrawn.

President George L. Sauer was authorized to place a satisfactory amount of burglar insurance on the manual training equipment in the Central building.

The clerk was directed to extend the board's condolences to Superintendent Henry A. Hartman and Miss Olla Allmendinger, a teacher, both of whom lost their mothers during the past week.

It was decided to dismiss the schools Thursday and Friday on account of Thanksgiving.

At the next meeting Superintendent Hartman, who was absent from Monday night's session, will submit the names of the teachers who attended the teachers' association meeting in Columbus a short time ago, when the schools were dismissed a day for that purpose.

SCARLET FEVER IS CAUSE OF DEATH

John Burdette, aged eighteen months and eighteen days, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Bebout, residing at Jefferson and Mark streets, died of scarlet fever at the family residence, Tuesday morning about 8:30 o'clock. Two other children in the family are ill of the malady.

PROCEEDINGS IN THE COMMON PLEAS COURT

An Injunction Granted William Parratt Is Dissolved.

NOTICE OF APPEAL TO CIRCUIT COURT GIVEN

Coroner W. H. Hinklin Files Findings with the County Clerk—Contested Divorce Action of Thomas B. Smith Against Harriet Smith Will Be Heard Friday.

Because Solicitor Fred W. Warner, representing the city, proved conclusively to the court that the sewer in question was not a private sewer, as alleged by William Parratt, of Uhler avenue, in his application for a permanent injunction restraining Charles Hofstetter and the municipality from tapping into it, Judge William E. Scofield, late Monday afternoon, dissolved the temporary injunction granted by him, Friday, November 20.

Parratt's attorney, John D. DeGolley, gave notice of appeal to the circuit court, and Judge Scofield fixed the appeal bond at $100. He suspended his order of dissolution for ten days to permit application to the circuit for suspension on appeal.

Solicitor Warner also showed to the court that the sewer involved had only ten taps and a capacity of twenty-five or thirty taps, and would not be insufficient, as represented by Parratt, to take care of Hofstetter's sewage.

Tuesday morning, Coroner W. H. Hinklin filed with County Clerk W. W. Klinefelter his finding in connection with the suicide of Elizabeth Molica, twenty-year-old bride of Rosario Molica. Mrs. Molica drank carbolic acid Friday, November 13, last. Coroner Hinklin, who examined only two witnesses, the woman's father, Vincent Nardini, and the husband, throws no new light on the suicide. The father testified that his daughter's husband treated her kindly and that he never heard her make threats of suicide. The husband testified that he went to work in the morning at 6:15, and, returning home at 5 o'clock in the evening, he found her dead. He declared that he never heard her threaten suicide.

Coronr Hinklin at the same time filed his finding in the tragic death of George W. Thompson, October 12. He found that he met death by accidentally having his head crushed between two freight cars on the Erie railroad.

Sidney J. Moore, through Conley & Johnson, Tuesday, brought a suit in foreclosure against Richard Earl Tate and Nellie Tate to recover $283.86, with six per cent. interest. The property involved is located on Mark street.

The Fahey Banking company, French Crow and County Clerk W. W. Klinefelter are made party defendants and asked to set up their respective interests in the property.

Friday, Judge William E. Scofield will hear the contested divorce action of Thomas B. Smith, a rural carrier out of Prospect, against Harriet Smith. On the following day, the defendant's action for alimony against the plaintiff will be heard in the Delaware county court of common pleas.

Mrs. Smith has retained Overturf & Hough, of Delaware, to fight her husband's action for a divorce in this court. Her husband recently brought suit for $10,000 damages against Postmaster John J. Roberts, of Prospect, for alienation of his wife's affection.

A personal injury suit for $2,550 damages against the Big Four railroad was begun by Martha Finley, through Mouser & Moloney, in the court of common pleas, Tuesday.

The plaintiff sets up that she was walking south on State street, October 14, 1912, and started to cross the railroad on the sidewalk as she supposed, but the planks had been torn up and she fell, through the railroad company's negligence, tearing loose the ligaments of her right ankle, spraining the muscles and causing permanent injuries. The accident happened in the evening at 6 o'clock.

OVERPOWER SHERIFF AND MAKE ESCAPE

Two Prisoners Gain Their Liberty, Monday Night.

THREE MEN INCLUDED IN PLOT TO ESCAPE

William De Haven, Alleged Slayer of Simeon Glathart, and Two Italians Fight To Assist Sheriff and One of Escaping Trio Is Knocked Down and Held.

Henry Allen, alleged burglar, and Frank H. Smith, self-confessed motorcycle thief, overpowered Sheriff John G. Stark, as he was taking some bed clothing into the jail, Monday night about 9:30 o'clock, and escaped.

Harry Lewis, who was arrested with Allen for burglarizing the Kelly clothing store in West Marion, was prevented from making his escape with his pal and Smith by William DeHaven, alleged slayer of Simeon Glathart, and three Italians arrested for stealing from Erie box cars.

DeHaven struck Lewis repeatedly, knocking him down once. The three Italians pounced upon him and succeeded in holding him until the inner door of the jail cage had been securely locked. One of the Italians injured Lewis severely about the head and face with a tin bucket.

When Allen and Smith gained the jail corridor they were met by Mrs. Stark and Mrs. Erba Hoy, the latter employed as a servant. The men threw the women to one side and made a break for the door at the end of the corridor opening into the alley. Mrs. Stark managed to get to this door and attempted to lock it, thinking the other prisoners would try to escape. She was flung aside, and the men leaped into the alley and disappeared in the darkness before Sheriff Stark, armed with a heavy club, which he had picked up near the jail door, could give pursuit.

Three in the Plot.

Lewis, Smith and Allen planned the jail delivery and had been waiting an opportunity to carry it out for several days.

Monday night, when the sheriff opened the outer jail door, the men were sitting at a table near the cage entrance. He opened the cage door and entered the jail part. Just as he turned about with the big bundle of clothing to turn the key, the three men lunged against him. They did not strike him, but forced him violently to the floor and made a dash for liberty.

Smith and Allen got through the cage and into the corridor before Mrs. Stark could turn the key in the outer jail door. Lewis fought hard to get through the opening, but was balked in his attempt by the battling prisoners. At the time of the escape of Allen and Smith, nine prisoners were confined in the jail and none of them tried to escape, except Smith, Allen and Lewis

Sheriff Stark, stunned more by surprise than violence, quickly recovered himself, but too late to prevent the well-laid plot from being carried out in part. However, he would have probably pevented one of the two prisoners from escaping had it not been for Mrs. Stark, who, in attempting to lock the alley door, stood between her husband and one of the prisoners. The sheriff could have struck him with his club, but feared the blow would catch his wife instead. Then, in a twinkling, Mrs. Stark was whirled from the doorway and the prisoner was gone.

A Fruitless Search.

The Sheriff immediately notified Deputy Sheriff Cornelius Breen and the police and a futile search was made for the fugitives.

Allen wore a sweater and was hatless. He is of medium height and of medium weight, and about twenty-five years old. Smith is twenty years old and is about five feet nine or ten inches tall and weighs 160 to 170 pounds.

The surrounding towns were notified by the sheriff of the prisoners' escape.

Tuesday, Lewis expressed sorrow for his part in the affair. "But that was our only chance," he said. "It was a chance for liberty or five years anyhow behind the bars. I am sorry now because the sheriff was good to us."

Lewis is now locked in a cell and will be kept on a diet of bread and water for several days.

Both Mr and Mrs. Stark are almost ill over the escape of Allen and Smith. "Just think we've been here almost four years now and have had no trouble, then this occurs just a short time before we are to leave, and we have been so careful, I am about sick over it," the sheriff said.

ANDY'S PLAN IS TROUBLE RAISER

Democrats Threaten To Split Over Question.

BURLESON WOULD PAY OUR EX-PRESIDENTS

But Plan Receives a Blow in His Own Camp.

Representative Wants Committee on Appropriations to Grant Former Chief Executives Salary of $17,500 Annually — Senator-Elect James Makes Statement, in No Uncertain Terms, That He Opposes Scheme.

Washington, Nov. 27.—What provision shall be made for the country's former presidents has become such a live issue in congress that, already, the Democrats threaten to split on the question.

Representative Burleson, member of the committee on appropriations, is making a fight to have his committee incorporate in the legislative, executive and judicial appropriations bill a provision for an annual salary of $17,500 to former presidents, as representatives-at-large, but his plan has received a blow in the camp of his own friends.

Senator-elect James, of Kentucky, declares he is opposed to any such legislation.

"The president now gets a pretty decent salary," said the Kentuckian, "and he goes out of office with greater prestige and better equipped to earn a salary as a democratic citizen of the republic than when he entered the White House He is relatively better paid than a United States senator."

"You might as well pension a United States senator or representative when he is defeated after twenty years of service. I would be willing to let them have the floor as a courtesy to the office they held, but I would not put them on the payroll. Nor would I give them a voice in the proceedings of congress for life."

No pension was voted Jefferson or Jackson and we should not, at this day, depart from the spirit of citizenship and public service upon which democracy is founded."

TAFT NOT SEEKING PRESIDENCY IN 1916

Will Participate Actively in Work of His Party.

Washington, Nov. 27. — President Taft has informed friends that, no matter how active his participation in a reorganization of the Republican party may be, he is not to be regarded or publicly referred to in political speeches by Republicans as a possible candidate of the party in 1916.

The president intends to do all in his power to help rejuvenate the party, and probably will make many political speeches before March 4 and after he re-enters private life

These facts have been developed here during the last few days, in connection with discussion of a proposed gathering of Republican leaders in the course of the winter to formulate plans for bringing Republican factions together. Within the last week nearly a dozen Republican national committeemen have called at the White House for brief conferences.

A meeting of Republican leaders, to be held at New York or Washington some time early in January, is now being considered, but plans are as yet indefinite.

MRS. RAYMOND IS FREE WOMAM

Acquittal Comes Following a Maine Trial.

JURY IS OUT TWO HOURS AND A HALF

Bedlam Reigns When Verdict Is Announced.

Woman Is Accused of Death of Mattie Hackett, Who Is Murdered Seven Years Ago—Mrs. Raymond Thanks All Who Stood by Her. Mrs. Hackett, Mother of Murdered Woman, Glad for the Verdict.

Augusta, Me., Nov. 27.—Mrs. Elsie Hobbs Raymond, who has been on trial here for the murder of Mattie Hackett, seven years ago, was acquitted today. The jury was out two hours and a half The contention of the state was that Mrs. Raymond strangled the Hackett girl to death in a fit of jealousy, caused by the attentions paid the girl by Mr. Raymond.

When the verdict was announced men and women applauded and, for a minute, bedlam reigned. Bert Raymond rushed toward his wife She cried out, "Bert," as she fell into his arms.

Scores of women were crying and not a few men were sobbing at the scene Judge Whitehouse did not admonish the spectators for their actions. There was so much confusion that it was several minutes before Mrs. Raymond could support herself. She then grasped the hand of a reporter and said:

"You boys have given me a fair deal I am going home to my little girl and husband. Just say that I want to thank people who have stood by me in my hour of trouble. I forgive all who have helped to make me trouble."

Mrs Hackett and her daughters sat within fifteen feet of Mrs Raymond. They did not applaud, but when the cheering had subsided Mrs Hackett said she was glad that the verdict was not "guilty"

LEWIS GEER IS FINED FOR VIOLATION OF LAW

Found Guilty of Selling Intoxicants on Sunday.

DETECTIVES MAKE COMPLAINT IN CASE

Geer Is Given Opportunity To Carry the Case to the Higher Courts. Another Charge Against Saloonist. Hearing To Be Held December 11. Some Local Police Notes.

Lewis Geer was given a hearing in the mayor's court, Tuesday evening, on a charge of keeping his place open and selling intoxicants, Sunday, October 6. The affidavit for the arrest of Geer was sworn to by Albert J. Lane, of the Ohio Brewers' Vigilance association, of Dayton, who also has several other charges against Geer.

The defendant was represented by Attorney L. E. Myers and the prosecution was conducted by City Solicitor Fred W. Warner. The witnesses for the prosecution were Charles F. Roman and Frank J. Cavender, detectives for the association, while Lewis Geer, I. C. Durkin, an employe at the place, and Frank Geer testified for the defense The motion of the defendant's attorney to dismiss the case was overruled, and after the arguments in the case, the mayor found the defendant guilty as charged in the indictment and fined him $100 and the costs in the case. Execution of jugment was suspended pending the filing of a bill of exceptions to carry the case to the higher courts.

It is probable that the other cases started by the detectives against Geer will not be prosecuted unless the defendant again breaks the law. The charge brought against Geer by Officer Thompson for keeping open and selling last Sunday, has been set for hearing December 11 at 7 o'clock.

In the testimony adduced at this hearing, it was brought out that the saloon conducted by Geer Brothers is the property of the Hoster brewing combine of Columbus, and the building is owned by the Kraner estate.

WOMAN'S STORY JOLTS PROBERS

Tells of Conditions Found in New York Canneries.

CHILDREN SCARCELY OUT OF THE CRADLE

Compelled To Work from Morning Till Midnight.

Mary E. Chamberlain, of New York, Talks to Delegation of Owners and Managers, Testifying Before Factory Investigating Commission. Women Found in Several Instances Working Over 100 Hours a Week.

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 27.—Mary Elizabeth Chamberlain of New York city, a Vassar college girl of the class of 1909, gave a delegation of 30 or more owners and managers of up-state canning establishments a jolt when she went on the stand before the state factory investigating commission and testified as to conditions in certain vegetable canneries of the state.

Miss Chamberlain told the commission that she went from one cannery to another "looking for a job" and of working at various establishments. At one cannery, the witness said, the timekeeper "got fresh" with her and insulted her. She gave the commission the name and address of this man

Miss Chamberlain had a diary of her experiences in the canning sheds and factories. From personal observation she said she discovered that children ranging in ages from four years up had been employed "snipping" beans, husking corn or sorting peas and beans. Miss Chamberlain said the spectacle of "these little human machines, some of them four or five and six years old, and some of them with their fingers wrapped up in bandages, the result of having them split in their work, was as sad as it was shocking."

During the busy season in the canneries, Miss Chamberlain said, the youngsters worked regularly from 4 a. m. until 10 p. m., and sometimes until midnight "Some of the children would fall asleep, others would cry and want to quit work, but I have seen them whacked by their parents and compelled to stay at their task."

Miss Chamberlain said she dressed and followed the procession and discovered her conclusions were well founded.

"After the commission visited one of the canneries where I was working," said the witness, "the boss said children under five years of age could not work there any more."

"What? Under five years of age?" asked Senator Wagner.

"That was a big improvement, wasn't it?"

S. L. Potter, another investigator of the commission, submitted a long report on conditions in the canneries, and his statement that children and women were worked excessive hours was supported by others. In several instances the women worked 119 hours a week.

OFFICIAL VOTE IS GIVEN OUT

Secretary of State Announces the Ohio Figures.

COX LEADS THE STATE TICKET BY BIG MARGIN

Complete Election Returns for Buckeye Officials.

General Brown Finishes at Bottom of Republican Ticket and Garford at Head of Bull Moose Ticket. The Height of the Great Democratic Wave That Sweeps Over State at Recent Election.

Columbus, O., Nov. 27.—Exact measurement of the height of the Democratic tidal wave which swept over Ohio Nov. 5 has just been afforded for the first time by Secretary of State Charles H Graves, who announced the official vote for state officers.

Leading the state ticket, both in the size of the vote he polled and in the amount of his plurality over his nearest opponent, James M. Cox was elected by 166,823 over General Robert B. Brown Governor-elect Cox's vote, 139,323, however, was less than that polled by any Democratic candidate for governor since Tom L Johnson polled 361,748, in 1903.

Attorney General Timothy S. Hogan was second man on the Democratic ticket, both in vote and in plurality, defeating Freeman T Eagleson, Republican, by 151,489 Secretary of State Graves was third in the vote he polled but his plurality of 148,315 was exceeded by that of Lieutenant Governor Hugh L Nichols, 149,521.

Clearly traceable to there being no Progressive nominees for state school commissioner and members of the state board of public works is the result that John W Zoller for school commissioner led the Republican ticket, with 320,343 votes, followed by the two candidates for members of the board of public works, Charles H Geidel, 318,189, and William Meinhardt, 312,994. These offices were abolished by amendment to the constitution. For offices which would have paid them a salary had they been elected, the highest of the Republican candidates was Thomas J. Edwards, nominee for clerk of the supreme court, who polled 300,365 votes.

While General R. B. Brown finished at the bottom of the Republican ticket, Arthur L. Garford, Progressive candidate for governor, led his ticket, with a vote of 217,903. Brown's plurality over Garford was 54,597, while Edwards' plurality over C. T. Bromley, Progressive, for clerk of the supreme court, was 108,058. For congressman at-large Lawrence K. Langdon, Republican, led Randolph W. Walton, Progressive, by 107,556.

Boosted Socialist Vote.

The fact that the Progressives had no candidates for school commissioner and members of the state board of public works boosted the vote of the Socialist candidates for these offices, the highest Socialist vote being 91,268, cast for H W. Yost, candidate for member of the public works board. Because the Socialist-Labor party had no candidate for congressman-at-large, the Socialist candidate for that office, Harry D Thomas, was second on the Socialist ticket, with 91,201 votes.

The vote for school commissioner and board of public works indicates that the Progressive party drew votes from the Socialists, even though the Socialist candidates polled the highest vote they ever did in Ohio. The vote for those offices for which the Progressives made no nominations does not bear out the claim that if there had been no Progressive party the Republican ticket would have been elected.

The only candidate for a state office to be elected who is not a Democrat is Judge R. M. Wanamaker of Akron, Progressive candidate for judge of the supreme court, who finished first of 13 candidates for the long term on the nonpartisan judiciary ballot. He ran 30,234 ahead of W. T. Schofield, Democrat, while Judge Oscar W. Newman, Democrat, who also was elected, ran 27,121 ahead of Schofield.

The highest vote polled on the judicial ballot was that of Judge J. Foster Wilkin, Democrat, who was elected short-term judge by a vote of 232,224, a plurality of 45,852 over Judge William T. Spear, Republican

The effect of the nonpartisan ballot was clearly shown in the big vote given the Socialist judicial candidates, John C. Madden, Henry W. Schroeder and Norman L. Burnet, respectively, 99,512, 96,310 and 89,968.

She was awarded custody of their eight-year-old son. The DeLormes were married in Hoboken, New Jersey, March 27, 1888. She was represented by Attorney Louis E. Myers at her divorce hearing. The defendant did not appear.

Because she expects to go to California to live and can not remain here until her petition for a divorce is heard, Flora F. McFaden, through Attorney L. E. Myers, Wednesday, filed a motion to have her action dismissed. Judge Scofield dismissed her petition, in which Edward A. McFaden, a cement worker, was named as defendant. The petition was filed October 22, 1912, and charged cruelty and failure to provide. The McFadens were married at Covington, Kentucky, September 6, 1912, the wife's maiden name being Ulsh.

Orlando Garrison, doing business under the firm name of the Garrison Machine Works in Dayton, Wednesday, through Conley & Johnson, of Marion, and Attorney A. C. McDonald, of Dayton, filed a motion for the appointment of a receiver for the National Novelty company, of Marion. The motion was filed in Garrison's action against the Novelty company for the collection of a justice of the peace judgment of $273.

In his motion, the plaintiff asserts his belief that the defendant company is the owner of a quantity of cold rolled steel pants creasers and of certain patent rights on pants creasers and other articles. He asks that a receiver be appointed and the property described be sold for the satisfaction of his judgment.

C. Mack, who obtained judgment for $128.11 on account for groceries against Mrs. J. C. McGown, known as Anna M. McGown, has filed a transcript lien in the court of common pleas. Mack got judgment against her in the court of Justice Charles W. Haberman, and Mrs. McGown claims that her divorced husband ought to pay the bill. McGown was formerly a local street car motorman, who ran away with a married woman several years ago and located in Iowa.

Sarepta L. Sullivan, plaintiff in an action for divorce from Chester I. Sullivan, has filed a motion for the allowance of temporary alimony. The motion was filed by her attorney, H. Edmund Hill.

RUSSIA WARNS THE AUSTRIANS

Will Occupy Constantinople if Serbs Are Checked.

SERVIAN ARMY NEARS SEAPORT OF DURAZZO

Turkey's Terms, Suitable as a Basis for Discussion.

The Czar's Men Are Held on the Frontier, in Readiness To Enter Armenia and Protect Christians, Should Such Action Become Necessary—The Porte Is Notified of Russia's Intention in the Matter.

London, Nov. 27.—In diplomatic circles here it is said that Turkey has presented to the Bulgarian plenipotentiaries as a basis for an agreement acceptable to Turkey, the following terms:

First, no war indemnity; second, the retention of all that territory belonging to Turkey in Europe bounded by the Meritza river, including the fortress of Adrianople; third, the maintenance of the sovereignty of the sultan in Albania.

While they are talking peace, in Albania the Servian army is coming daily nearer to Durazzo, the seaport that was the cause of the trouble between Austria and Servia. They are now at Milota, but seven miles distant.

A dispatch from Constantinople hints that if the Austrians seize Durazzo ahead of the Servians or interfere with the Servian occupation of that place, Russia may retaliate by occupying Constantinople.

The Russians are holding a strong force on the frontier ready to enter Armenia and protect the Christians if such action should prove to be necessary in view of the constant reports of massacres in the Bitlis, Van and Mush districts. Russia has notified the porte of her intention.

Throughout all Europe there is a feeling of relaxation. At all the capitals men awakened to the fact that after all there wasn't much to fight about. A strip of seacoast in far-away Albania, the desire of little Servia for an Adriatic seaport and the jealousy of Austria were surely not matters important enough to plunge all Europe into war.

In the meantime, from the little town near the Tchatalja lines, where the plenipotentiaries of Turkey and the allies have sat them down to talk of peace, while the armies rest, comes scanty news.

It is a good idea to have mustard and flour already prepared and kept in the medicine closet, then in case of hoarseness and cold, water may be added and a plaster made without having to go to the kitchen to hunt for the mustard box.

Nut sandwitches are among the best foods to put in the children's school lunches. Also shelled nuts are delicious and nutritious.

Farmer Saves 300 Passengers.

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 28—Three hundred passengers on a Chicago, Peoria and St. Louis train today owe their lives and privilege to eat a Thanksgiving day dinner to J. A. Hudspeth, a farmer, residing near Challacombe. Hudspeth was in his wheat field, when he noticed smoke arising beyond. Without losing any time, he unhitched one of his plow horses, raced five miles to Medora, and warned the station agent that a trestle had been destroyed by fire He was not any too soon for the agent had to run down the track with a red lantern to warn the fast approaching train. The engineer saw the signal and stopped. The passengers did not know of their danger until the train had been backed up and detoured over another line.

MRS. EMMA HOPKINS IS GRANTED A DIVORCE

Charges Her Husband with Many Deficiences.

MRS. ELLA THOMPSON SECURES A DECREE

Ray E. Poth Begins an Action for a Divorce—Mrs. Gertrude Ankeny Is Denied a Divorce—The Defendant a Hard-Working Man—Common Pleas Court Notes.

Emma Hopkins was granted a decree of divorce from James E. Hopkins, a carpenter, Wednesday afternoon. She testified that her husband was possessed of an ungovernable temper, and refused to work. Finally, she told Judge Scofield, he abandoned her. She was given custody of their adopted child.

The plaintiff was married to the defendant, December 16, 1910, and begun suit for divorce, September 24, 1912. L. E. Myers was her lawyer.

Because she claimed her husband, Charles A Thompson, a carpenter, beat her and was cruel to her in other ways, Ella Louise Thompson was granted a decree of divorce and restored to her maiden name of Doty by Judge Scofield, Wednesday afternoon. Her action for divorce was begun October 14, 1912, through Attorney H. Edmund Hill. She was married to the defendant, January 12, 1911.

March 20, 1907, Lillian Hendrickson was married in Cincinnati to Jeremiah Hammond, a Radnor blacksmith. Wednesday afternoon, she was divorced and restored to her maiden name because, she alleged, her husband was cruel and neglectful. She was represented by Attorney L. E. Myers.

Ray E Poth, a barber, Wednesday afternoon, through Carhart & Warner, brought an action for a divorce from Bertha Schultz, to whom he was married October 18, 1900. Following his marriage, the plaintiff went into court and had his name changed to Poth, his father's name.

Poth charges his wife with immorality. He asks custody of their one child.

Gertrude Ankeny, a former school teacher, Wednesday afternoon, was denied a decree of divorce from Noah Ankeny, an employe of the Marion-Osgood company. In denying the decree, Judge Scofield remarked that the evidence showed the defendant to be a hard-working man. He thought the evidence did not warrant him in giving the wife a decree. The husband contested.

The Ankenys were married in Wyandot county, June 25, 1902, and the wife brought suit for divorce, April 30, 1912. Although she was denied a decree, the wife was given custody of their one child. The father, however, has the right to visit the little one every other Sunday. In July of each year he is entitled to the possession of the seven-year-old child during the entire month.

In Wednesdays hearing Attorney J. Wilbur Jacoby represented the plaintiff while Attorney John D De Golley was counsel for the defendant.

Late Wednesday afternoon, Judge William E Scofield made the following jury assignments

Monday, December 9—Mautz against Merchant, Landon against Baldwin and Strelitz against Shetterly.

Tuesday, December 10—Strine against Scoville and King against McMurray.

Wednesday, December 11—Saiter against Maqfield, Bolander against Conley and Baxter against Holverstott.

Thursday, December 12—Carlisle against Clark and Lucas against Northrup.

Friday, November 13—Sha against Curl.

VITO BENEDITTO IS TAKEN INTO CUSTODY

Alleged Slayer of Antonio Stafano Is Captured.

ADMITS THE KILLING OF MAN AT MARION

Gives His Reasons for the Shooting to the Police at Hornell, New York—The Lad Will Be Brought Back to Marion To Answer to the Charges Held Against Him.

As a result of the efforts on the part of Chief McDonough, Vito Benedittо, the alleged slayer of Antonio Stafano, who was shot and almost instantly killed at the boarding house of the boy's mother on Waterloo street, Tuesday night, was arrested at Hornell, New York, Wednesday night and is being held for the local authorities.

The arrest followed a telegram sent to Hornell by Chief McDonough, about 5:30 o'clock Wednesday evening, after the chief had been informed by Erie Detective Reed that he had seen a young boy board Erie train, No. 8, at Galion, Wednesday morning, with a ticket for Hornell. The message of the chief reached Hornell in advance of the train and the officers met the train at the station and arrested the youthful traveler. According to a special to the morning papers from Hornell, the boy admitted shooting a man in Marion, but refused to give the name of the dead man. He killed him, he said, because of the friendship shown his mother by the man.

About 10 o'clock, Wednesday night, Chief McDonough received a telegram from Chief of Police M. J. Hickey, of Hornell, stating that the boy had been arrested. Chief McDonough wired immediately to learn if the Beneditto boy would return without requisition papers, but received a reply that the laws of New York state would not permit of a prisoner being taken out of the state without requisition, even though the prisoner was willing.

Chief McDonough, who is anxious to make the trip, states that in case he is granted the opportunity he will go to Columbus, Friday, to see Governor Harmon and will start at once for Hornell. It is thought the boy was returning to Italy when arrested. According to information the mother of the boy has disappeared.

The father of the lad is in the city.

EVERY SEAL SOLD IS A BULLET IN THE WAR

The Sale of Red Cross Seals Opens in Earnest.

Beginning today over 80,000,000 Red Cross Christmas seals will be placed on sale in almost every large city and nearly every state of the United States, the proceeds to go for the benefit of the anti-tuberculosis movement in the community where the seals are sold. This announcement was made today from headquarters of the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis which is directing the sale from its New York office.

So carefully has the sale been organized throughout the country that with the exception of the states of Florida, Oklahoma, Nevada and Idaho, Red Cross seals will be on sale in almost every city, town, village and hamlet of the United States and even in Hawaii, Porto Rico and the Canal Zone.

The seals will be sold from drug stores, department stores and other kinds of stores and shops, from post offices, railway stations, booths on the street, hotel lobbies and in numerous other places. The number of agents handling the sale in this way aggregates over 25,000, while the actual number of inidviduals engaged in the sale, almost entirely volunteers, will reach well over 100,000. Society leaders in almost every large city of the country, notably in Pittsburgh, Brooklyn, Cleveland, Chicago, Cincinnati, San Francisco and elsewhere are taking a leading part in this campaign.

The American Red Cross has already printed for the work over 85,000,000 seals and probably the edition will number 100,000,000 before the end of the campaign. Fully 10,000,000 pieces of advertising literature have already been sent out, and several million more are being distributed from local and state agencies throughout the country. It is planned to make the campaign this year the largest that has ever been held. If the anticipations of the anti-tuberculosis workers are realized, no less than $400,000 will be obtained from the sale of Red Cross seals. Practically all of the money remains in the state or city where the seals are sold, only a very small percentage of it is going to pay for the cost of the printing and distributing the seals and for the expense of running the campaign.

The national association announce that in case any persons can not obtain seals in the community where they live, they can secure them by writing to Red Cross Seal Headquarters, 715 Union Trust Building, Washington. Red Cross seals cost one cent each and every seal sold is a bullet in the fight against tuberculosis.

Following an Operation in Washington Three Weeks Ago.

Washington, Nov. 28.—Sergeant-at-Arms Daniel M. Ransdell, of the United States senate, died at 4:30 this morning in Garfield hospital following an operation for angina pectoris three wteks ago. His death was entirely unexpectedly. He slept well during the early part of the night, and it was not until about 3 a. m. that nurses found him awake and in an alarming condition. Physicians were summoned, but could do nothing to save his life.

Daniel Moore Ransdell was born in Indiana, near Indianapolis, and worked on a farm until sixteen years old, when he entered Franklin college. He left college to enter the union army. He lost his right arm at the battle of Resaca, May 15, 1864. At the close of the war, he began teaching school, and followed this calling for a year, when he was elected deputy recorder of Marion county, Indiana. He was elected city clerk of Indianapolis in 1867, and re-elected in 1869.

Mr. Ransdell was a member of the Republican state committee for eight years, and was appointed marshal of the District of Columbia by President Harrison in 1889, serving until January, 1894. He was elected sergeant-at-arm of the senate, January 29, 1900.

Senator Jones founded the town of Santa Monica, California, in 1875, and planned to make the Beach City a great seaport, but the shallowness of the bay prevented this.

OFF WITH THE OLD LOVE AND ON WITH THE NEW

Speedy Marriage Attracts the Attention of Court.

LOVER WAITS WHILE BRIDE GETS DIVORCE

Mrs. Margaret M. DeLong Weds Leon L. Bilger—Eight Marriage Licenses and Five Divorce Decrees Are Granted for Thanksgiving. Unusual Record of Wednesday.

Probate Judge William C. Spencer granted eight Thanksgiving day marriage licenses up to the closing hour at 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, while Common Pleas Judge William E. Scofield during the day granted five decrees of divorce, heard and denied one divorce petition an dismissed another petition at the request of the plaintiff. One divorce petition was filed during the day.

Scarcely had Judge Scofield written his decree in one of the divorces in his docket than the woman in the case was married by Justice Charles E. Gompf in the probate court. She was the plaintiff in the divorce matter of Margaret M. DeLong against James C. DeLong. She was granted a divorce by Judge Scofield on her charges of extreme cruelty and three years wilful absence.

No sooner had the decree been announced than she joined Leon L. Bilger, who awaited her in the courthouse corridor. Together, they went to the probate court, procured a license and were married at 3:30 o'clock. The bride, although she had not been restored to her maiden name, procured the license in her maiden name of Boyd and gave her married name as DeLong. She was married to DeLong, December 21, 1906, and is the mother of one child, whose custody was given to a sister of the father. Bilger, her second husband, is a young farmer.

Judge Scofield was very much displeased when he learned of the woman's speedy marriage. "I wonder if her attorney knew it was coming off," he said.

MARION BANKERS ARE GIVEN WARNING

Swindlers Are Operating Throughout the State.

Marion bankers have been notified to be on the lookout for swindlers operating through Ohio. The plan of the swindlers is to enter a town and make a small deposit in different banks. They then secure rooms at a hotel and for a few days spend their money freely, establishing themselves in the good graces of the bank clerks and the hotel men.

Within a short time the sharpers approach the bank officials and declare their intention to open a new business enterprise, usually a "small produce concern," which will require but small capital. The bank is asked by the new arrivals in the city's business field that a check drawn to their order be placed to their account. They then proceed to draw on the check for nearly its full amount, and the bank learns too late that the check is a forgery. And the swindlers have disappeared.

The Coldest Night.

Wednesday night was the coldest of the fall, the temperature falling to sixteen degrees above zero. Marion has been experiencing unusually fine weather this fall, there having been very little bad weather. Wednesday afternoon, there was a light snow fall, but the flakes melted almost as fast as they came down. The air was frosty next morning but the sun came out and the day was one of the brightest, and while a little chilly, one of the most pleasant of the fall.

A Slight Blaze.

The west end fire department was called to the home of John Butts, of David street, Thursday, about 10 o'clock, to extinguish a fire, which started from the overheating of a chimney flue. The siding of the dwelling was slightly damaged. Ten or fifteen dollars would probably cover the damage done the structure.

NEW PARCELS POST

Circular Letters To Be Sent Merchants and Others.

POSTMASTER WANTS BUSINESS POINTERS

Wishes To Learn Something of the Extent of the Business To Be Expected in Marion—Special Provisions To Handle Parcels Will Probably Be Necessary.

Preliminary to the inauguration of the new parcel's post, January 1, Postmaster M. B. Dickerson will send out circular letters to merchants and others in an effort to determine if possible the extent to which the service will be used. He is desirous to make preparation for prompt and efficient handling of parcels, and he assets that, in order for him to do so, it will be absolutely necessary for merchants to make immediate reply to circular queries.

Here are the questions asked:

First, what is the average number of fourth-class parcels now mailed by you daily?

Second, what will be the average weight and size and number of parcels mailed daily by you when this law becomes effective?

Third, what proportion of the entire number will be for local delivery?

Fourth, will your parcels be mailed in large quantities at stated intervals or will there be a regular daily mailing?

What percentage of parcels will be insured, registered, perishable and fragile?

Sixth, when the C. O. D. feature is placed in operation what percentage of your parcels will be sent C. O. D.?

If Marionites take advantage of the parcels post as it is generally believed they will, the local postoffice probably will be swamped. The city carriers now carry on an average of seventy-pounds of mail a trip, and the possibilities are that a special delivery service will have to be inaugurated for the parcels post

Many Women Hurled Bodily from the Hall.

Five Thousand Students at University of Glasgow Resent Disturbance When Augustine Birrell, Secretary for Ireland, Is Making a Speech, and Take Matters in Their Own Hands.

Glasgow, Dec. 5.—A riot was precipitated by a suffragette attack upon a meeting of 5,000 students of the University of Glasgow, which was being addressed by Augustine Birrell, secretary for Ireland, here today. The rioting was the most violent in which suffragettes ever figured in Scotland and many of the women were hurled bodily from the hall.

As soon as Secretary Birrell began speaking women began shouting "Votes for women," and the speaker could not be heard. The women refused to leave the hall The speaker, who is an old man, tried to continue, but his voice was drowned beneath the screams of the women.

Angered by the outbreak, the students threatened the women who answered the threats with taunts. In the meantime the police had been summoned, but before they reached the scene fierce fighting had broken out. Students seized the women and carried them shrieking and fighting to the exits.

By the time the police arrived and cleared the hall the interior was a wreck. A number of the women were arrested.

Suffragettes To Use Bombs.

London, Dec. 5.—The militant suffragettes decided at a recent meeting to resort to the use of explosives in the event of government's refusing to incorporate woman suffrage in the forthcoming franchise bill, according to a statement issued by a news agency. Volunteers are to be called for to use bombs, both inside and outside the house of commons.

Explosives Are Purchased.

London, Dec. 5.—Investigation today by the police of threats by suffragettes to use bombs in their warfare for the ballot, resulted in securing evidence that explosives had been purchased at several places in London within the past two weeks.

As a result, the guard at the parliament building has been increased.

Application for Charter.

Memphis, Tenn., Dec. 5.—Application for a charter for the Lumbermen's Traffic bureau was made today. Its purpose is to adjust lumber rates from any point in the South and to fight further increases in railroad freight rates on lumber.

Ship Reported To Be Safe.

Chicago, Dec. 5.—A wireless message from Captain Berry of the revenue cutter, Tuscorora, states that he communicated, at noon, with the officers of the steamer, Crescent City, in mid-lake, and that they informed him that they had sighted the missing Christmas schooner, Rouse Simmons, at 7 a. m. yesterday. They declared the Simmons was about three miles offshore, headed for Recino

Captain Berry stated that he had come over the ground indicated by the officers of the Orr and had found no trace either of the missing boat or of any wreckage. He believes the officers of the Orr were mistaken in the boat.

A Thrilling Escape.

New York, Dec. 5.—A thrilling story of their escape from a foundering steamboat and the capsizing of a lifeboat in which they were trying to reach the nearest land, with the loss of one of their number, was brought to shore today by Captain Peter Chambers and his crew of nine men, who arrived on the steamer, Miida, from Nuevitas, Cuba.

Ship Abandoned.

Then the rats had deserted the ship while it lay in the Chicago harbor. And all the way across the lake, as we sailed for our cargo, the old saying had been ringing in my ears—the rats always desert a sinking ship.'

An Immense Load.

"Our trip over was in as fair weather as one could wish to see—just like midsummer. When we had filled the hold with Christmas trees at Manistique we were ordered to pile up a deck load of the saplings. The load grew and grew and still they had me piling more and more trees on deck.

"Taen 1 quit. Captain Schuenemann, the owner of the cargo, told me I would get no money unless the stuck for the cruise, but I had some money and so I took a train for Chicago Here I am—and the others!"

Captain Nelson was worried about the ship before he left Chicago, according to Hoganson. When the rats left the Rouse Simmons the captain told Captain George Dahlar, of the Chicago harbor police, that he feared it was a bad omen. The schooner also carried a lifeboat, Hoganson said.

Ship Reported Lost.

Chicago, Dec. 5.—The Rouse Simmons, Captain Herman Schuenemann, Captain Nelson's partner in the Christmas tree venture. Alexander Johnson, first mate; Edward Minogue, Frank Schat, George Watson, Ray Davis, Conrad Griffin, George Quinn, Edward Murphy, John Morwaushi, "Stump" Morris, Greely Peterson, Frank Paul, Edward Hogan and Philip Bauswewin, sailors.

"It was he rats that gave me my first kinch' that trouble was ahead for the Rouse Simmons," said Hoganson today, telling why he left the schooner, just before it cleared from Manistique, Michigan.

dent to the administration of a new tax law, we have raised the first year one $2,550,000. Of this amount individuals paid: $1,157,208.29 and corporations $2,394,025.51.

"The Wisconsin income tax law yielded more the first year of its operation than did the first federal income tax, although the latter applied to the entire country.

Only Slight Difference.

The personal property tax in Wisconsin this year was $4,100,000 The income tax yield, therefore, is only $550,000 less With a few changes in the law and a more prosperous year as a basis to go on next time, it is likely that this difference will be only insignificant. Thus, the personal property tax may be abolished in Wisconsin at any time the people desire, without opposing any additional burden upon real estate.

"Uniformity in the taxation of incomes may be desirable, but, if possible, it should be brought about not by national legislation but by concerted action among the states"

Former Governor Augustus E Wilson, of Kentucky, followed with a condemnation of the present federal income tax, in vogue in some states, and praise of a state income tax which would be used where it is needed.

"I am very earnestly in favor," said the former governor, "of abolishing the present general property tax and greatly extending the present personal property tax as startling in its inefficiency, inequality and the universal concealments of securities from a tax which would, if literally enforced, confiscate all or nearly all of every safe investment.

"Our experience with every congress of all parties, is that they will always collect and spend all they can and dare."

MINERS MAKE CHARGE OF DISCRIMINATION

Say Railroad Furnishes Cars to Some Mines and Not to Others.

Louisville, Ky., Dec. 5.—Eight miners of the western Kentucky coal field, who had lodged complaints with the Kentucky Railroad commission that the Illinois Central had caused cessation of work in the fields by refusing to furnish cars to the mines, amended their petition after an all-day hearing.

The miners now charge discrimination on the part of the railroad, claiming that three mines are furnished enough cars while the other seven can not get any. Illinois Central officials explained that these mines supply the railroad with its coal This complaint was set for hearing at Central City December 19

To Be Returned in Jefferson County

AGAINST EIGHT OF THE GRAND JURY WITNESSES

In the Matter of Corrupt Elections.

Eight of the Thirty-Five Who Have Testified Will Be Placed Under Secret Indictment—Others Ask for Chance To Set Themselves Right by Telling All They Know—2,000 Witnesses May Be Called.

Steubenville, O., Dec. 5.—The announcement was made here today that secret indictments, charging perjury, would be returned against eight of the thirty-five witnesses who have testified before the grand jury investigating corruption in the last election in Jefferson county.

Ten others, suspected of perjury, have been called before the state's attorneys and have asked for another chance to set themselves right by telling all they know. These men, with some of the other witnesses, have supplied the state with names on which 150 subpoenas are being issued and probably 600 persons whose names are now in the hands of the investigators, will be called.

County Prosecutor Jay S. Paisley intimated today that about 2,000 witnesses might be called from the farms, mines and small villages throughout the county. However instead of punishing the vote vendors here, as was done in Adams county, the men attacking alleged corruption are going after the men who are suspected of buying their way into office

The certificates of election of eight Republican candidates on the county ticket are being withheld on the order of Secretary of State Graves. They are those of John G Beiknap, for probate judge; W. C. Brown, prosecuting attorney; Samuel Black, county treasurer, William Huscroft, sheriff; Carl H Smith, common pleas judge; James Priest, Charles Nelson and F. F. Cunningham, county commissioners, and John F. Gibson, state representative.

STRANGLER SAYS HE IS TELLING TRUTH

Never Harmed Any Person in the Ohio City.

Man Held in Buffalo Declares He Is Not Responsible for Murders Throughout the Country and He Wants Fact Stated Once and For All—Three Killings Are All He Commits, He Maintains.

Buffalo, N Y, Dec 5.—Another brutal murder has been unearthed by the Cleveland authorities, who have asked the Buffalo police to find out if J. Frank Hickey, the confessed murder of two boys, had any connection with the crime.

In his cell in the county jail today Hickey vehemently denied that he had been responsible for burders in different parts of the country.

"I know nothing of the murder of the boy, Manning, in Cleveland four years ago," Hickey said. "I wish you would state for me now and forever that I am not guilty of any murders except the two boys and that man Stone in Lowell, Massachusetts.

"I worked in Cleveland for the Stewart Construction company, but it was longer than five years ago. I never harmed any one in that city. That is the truth."

Dr. Herman G. Matzinger, a prominent allenist, and one of the physicians called to the bedside of the late Mr. Stewart, declared that the shooting at the Pan American exposition, has been retained to assist Attorney Daniel V. Murphy in the defense of Hickey.

Sheriff Lawrence, who permitted the initiation at the jail, secured the assistance of the prisoners, making the scene as wierd as possible.

The girls removed the blindfolds and found themselves in darkness. They tried to escape, but only bumped into the padded walls and iron bars on the door. When released, they were hysterical with fright.

Servia Remains Firm.

Belgrade, Dec. 5.—Servia still maintains her firm attitude almost and the people are shifting their attention from the south of Europe to the north, where the war clouds are becoming ominous.

President Mikolitch, of the Skupshtina, or Servian parliament, declared today that his government would not allow Austria to rob it of the fruits of its victory over Turkey.

"Servia's commercial interests demand an outlet on the Adriatic and that was one of the things for which we were fighting," said the president.

"Only such a port could give us the complete independence which has long been our national ambition. This war has cost us a huge amount of money and we must increase our commerce to meet the financial demands We can not allow Austria to rob us of the most important of our fruits of victory."

The government of Servia is prepared to make a bold stroke to attain its ends, notwithstanding that it is opposed by three of the leading European powers.

This was a day here for rejoicing over the conclusion of the armistice.

A Big Game Suspected.

Numerous reports are current here in explanation of Greece's recalcitrant action. In the opinion of many Turkish statesmen, Greece is playing a sly game and is acting secretly in co-operation with her ally.

Evidences of the coolness between the Greek and Bulgarian governments is reflected in the attitude of the envoys toward each other. Negotiations are under way here, according to the terms of the armistice with the Balkan states, for the supplying of provisions to the Bulgarian army along the Chataija lines. Stores which had been provided, in the event that Constantinople would have been forced to undergo a long siege, were opened for the use of the Bulgarians. In return, the non-combatants in Adrianople will be kept from sarvation by the Bulgars, who will carry victuals into the besieged city.

Anti-Greek Sympathy Grows.

Sofia, Dec 5.—Anti-Greek sympathy is growing here because of the failure of the Greek government to approve the terms of the armistice between Turkey, Bulgaria, Servia and Montenegro.

There is a feeling that Greece is attempting to get more than her legitimate share of the fruits of victory by breaking away from the conditions under which the Balkan league went to war.

Premier Guechoff, when asked today as to the possibility of Greece leaving the Balkan confederation, said that such a contingency had not yet been considered.

SOLONS AGAIN IN THEIR SEATS

Last Session of Sixty-Second Congress Convenes.

MANY IMPORTANT MEASURES ON TAP

Both Houses Adjourn To Honor Members Who Die

Speaker Champ Clark Raps for Order in the House and Senator Bacon, President Pro Tem., in the Senate. Ways and Means Committee To Hold Tariff Hearings—Thousands of Visitors at National Capital.

Washington, Dec 2.—Promptly at 12 o'clock Senator Clark banged his gavel on the new sounding board of his desk in the house, and the third session of the sixty-second congress was on.

One minute later, at 12:01, the United States senate was opened by Senator Bacon, the president pro tem.

At 1:08 the house adjourned on motion of former Speaker Cannon, in respect to the memory of Vice President Sherman.

Mr. Cannon read a short eulogy of Sherman.

At 12:21 the senate adjourned in honor of Vice President Sherman, Senators Heyburn and Rayner.

The senate chamber, which a moment before had been a-buzz with conversation, was hushed in silence. On the floor besides senators were a large number of officials and employes of the senate, while the galleries were crowded. Only the president's row and the diplomatic section were vacant

Conspicuous among the senators present were Senator Dixon, chairman of the Pregressive national committee, who, because of his political activities, was absent during the greater part of last session.

Some Personal References.

Senator LaFollette appeared in better health and spirits than for several years. Senator Nelson appeared as he always does the first day of each session, in a Prince Albert coat. Senator Stephenson has his whiskers closely cropped. Senator Tillman, who has been ill for several years and who has just been chosen for a fourth term, received congratulations on his improved health.

The chaplain, in invoking divine blessing, referred with feeling to the death of Vice President Sherman and to the death of Senator Heyburn and Senator Rayner, and also Sergeant-at-Arms Ramsdell.

The speaker's appearance in the house chamber was a signal for a great outburst of cheers from the 200 or more Democratic congressmen present. The Republicans also were unstinted in their enthusiasm The speaker wore a pink carnation in his buttonhole and seemed to enjoy the greeting he was given. Many Democratic congressmen had gathered in the chamber before the session began and had their enthusiasm ready when the speaker appeared.

Opening Prayer Read.

When order was obtained, the chaplain read his opening prayer. The ceremony took several minutes and as soon as it was concluded the noise broke forth again.

Representative Sulzer, governor elect of New York, was also given a hearty greeting. The roll was then called, but before it had proceeded a great way, Governor-elect Cox, of Ohio, appeared and the enthusiasm broke out again.

The galleries were thronged with spectators who sat quietly in their seats while the members, on the floor below, gave vent to their feelings There was a notable absence of spectators in the diplomatic gallery.

The roll call disclosed 275 members present. Four new members were sworn in. They were Morgan, of Louisiana; Hart, of New Jersey, and Scott, of Iowa On motion of Mr Underwood, a committee to inform the president that congress was in session and ready to transact business was appointed. Speaker Clark appointed Underwood, of Alabama, Johnson, of Kentucky, and Mann, of Illinois, to perform this duty.

The resolutions, informing the house of the death of four members, was presented and it was resolved to hold memorial services for each.

Representative Linthicum, of Maryland, introduced a resolution calling the attention of the house to the death of Senator Rayner, of Maryland

Little of Big Interest.

Washington, Dec. 2.—For the final session of the sixty-second congress there are prospects of a flood of bills, but little actual legislation of national character during the three months' sitting.

There was an unusual demonstration in the house when Speaker Clark's gavel ushered in the new session, but enthusiasm in the senate was tempered with the recent death of Vice President Sherman, the president of the upper chamber.

The senate was draped in black. Many of the desks were piled high with flowers, and the galleries reserved for the foreign diplomats and other spectators were brilliant with costumes of many women.

A recurrence of the old fight between the adherents of a big navy and the "peace forces" is in prospect over the navy appropriation.

The present session must past the appropriation bills which are to keep the wheels of the government turning and this work must be done before March 4, if the finances are to be forthcoming.

There is little likelihood, however, that the same bitterness will mark the debate on the appropriation measures in this session as in the last.

The Archbald Case.

In addition to routine work, the senate will have the Archbald impeachment case on its hands and, as Judge Archbald is prepared to fight to a finish, the case may be long drawn out as the house committee of prosecutors will have to call a large number of witnesses and, in order to convict, a two-thirds vote of the senate must be secured, which may prove quite a burden on their shoulders. The Archbald defense may consist largely of "character testimony," which could be dragged out to an interminable length.

Leaders among both the Republican and Democrats believe President Taft will make a final effort to secure the passage of a large number of his favorite measures Prominent among these is the workmen's compensation act, banking and currency reforms and the inauguration of efficiency reforms in the government service.

President Taft has heard threats of the Democrats to ignore his program so that the great bills of national importance shall come up in the Wilson administration, but he is going ahead with the determination which has always marked his course where his own views were at stake.

The Democrats plan to leave such broad matters as the tariff, the trusts and the high cost of living for the Wilson administration and they will be probably taken up in the special session, which the president-elect has promised to call by April 15.

Secretary of Treasury Submits His Estimates.

$1,000,000,000 HARDLY SATISFIES DEMAND

Of Government for Necessary Expenditures.

A Total of $823,415,455 Is Asked by the Various Departments, Exclusive of About $275,000,000 for the Postal Service—Although the Estimates Are Submitted, It Does Not Indicate Appropriation.

Washington, Dec 2.—Estimates for another billion-dollar congress were sent to the house today by the secretary of the treasury Through the treasury department, the various establishments of the government ask for $823,415,155 14 for the payment of Uncle Sam's bills during the fiscal year of 1914. This total is exclusive of the appropriation for the postal service, which will probably amount to $275,000,000 additional, and which would run the grand total over the billion mark

Allowances for the postal service, however, are presumed to be fully reimbursable from the revenues of the postoffice department A recapitulation of the estimates by government departments shows the following apportionment among the several civil and military establishments.

Legislative, $13,291,983 22; executive, $820,790; state department, $1,492,012 61, treasury department, $112,373,870; territorial governments, $156,750, independent offices, $2,808,165 12; District of Columbia, $13,629,897 60; war department, $211,251,702 91, navy department, $154,301,177 56; interior department, $226,623,664 50; postoffice department proper, $2,-014,510; department of agriculture, $23,976,430;; department of commerce and labor, $16,873,264, department of justice, $10,798,337, total $823,415,455, minus the big postoffice appropriation budget

While the treasury department, acting upon the request of the various departments, has submitted estimates for the above sums, this does not indicate their appropriation.

The estimates for the war department includes the rivers and harbors appropriations Among the larger appropriations submitted in the estimates are:

St Marys river, Michigan, $1,-475,000. Houston ship channel, Texas, $550,000, a total of $12,-500,000 for the Ohio river, Missouri river, $2,100,000; Mississippi river, $8,685,000; Columbia river at mouth, $1,000,000; Tennessee river, $1,105,000; southwest pass of the Mississippi river, $500,000; St. Johns river, $611,000; Allegheny river, $602,000; waterway connecting Puget sound with Lakes Union and Washington, $1,000,000

For continuing improvements, contract work and maintenance of the several hundred streams carried in the estimates, the department reaches a total of $56,766,992. The estimates also provide for annual expense of continuing the work on authorized public buildings in various sections of the country.

The department of commerce and labor submits estimates for a considerable number of new lighthouse stations and aid to navigation. The sum of $115,000 is asked to establish a fog signal station near Cape St. Elias, Alaska; $80,000 for aides to navigation in Pearl Harbor; $125,000 for depot to Sixth district lighthouse; $50,000 for signal station at Point Vincente, California; $125,000 for station on Nevassa island, in the West Indies.

Approximately $1,000,000 is asked for new buildings and improvements at Ellis Island Immigration station

The executive branch of the government carries a larger total because of the recent apportionment bills adding forty-six new members of the house and four new senators. These will draw the usual salary and mileage allowance.

The estimates for the department of agriculture show that it will probably cost $3,198,000 to purchase and distribute free seed during the next year. The sum of $200,000 is wanted to prevent forest fires and $80,000 is asked to investigate chestnut tree blight. It is figured that $473,000 is necessary to enforce the pure-food law and it will take $300,000 to prevent the spread of moths.

A total of $3,965,392 is asked for the promotion of foreign intercourse, incling the expenses of representation at various international congresses More than $30,000,000 is said to be necessary for the continuation of the work in the Panama canal

EDWARDS BILL COMES TO LIFE

Governor-Elect Cox Is Behind the Measure

TO KICK OUT STATE BOARD OF REVIEW

Old Assessor System Is To Be Done Away With.

The County Will Be the Taxation Unit in the Buckeye State If Plan, Which Is Being Drawn by Judge R. M. Dittey, Is Enacted into Law. Fifteen Mills Is To Be the Limit of Taxation.

Columbus, O., Dec 2.—Two years ago a combination of Democrats and Republicans in the state senate succeeded in kicking the so-called Edwards county tax commissioner bill into a cocked hat and the members of the boards of review and those opposed to an effective personal property tax organization celebrated Today the cat is on its way back and the Edwards bill, in its essential features, already is on the way to the next legislatives hopper

When it is ready it will bear the O K of James M. Cox, the approval of Governor Judson Harmon and will have the backing of every loyal organization Democrat in Ohio The combination presages victory.

The measure now is being drawn by Judge Robert M Dittey, head of the state tax commission, who knows every turn in the road that must be guarded against and is prepared to make many improvements on the original Edwards measure. It is almost a certainty that the boards of review will have to go.

County To Be Unit.

The county wil be the taxation unit and the man or board in charge will be clothed with board powers The details of the system remains to be worked out, and in this connection the experiences of the commission with the present system will be exceedingly valuable. One thing is certain. The old assessor system, long ago condemned as useless and ineffective, must go.

Judge Dittey compared the present state of the taxation laws to a three-legged stool. Two legs are completed, he said, and the situation is being balanced with a brick. The brick he referred to is the doomed assessor system. The two legs that are completed consist of the state tax commission with its broad powers, and the Smith one-per-cent. tax limit law which has been in operation one year.

The deputy state tax commissioner, or board of commissioners, that is proposed to create in each county to be appointed by the state tax commission, will take over the duties of the present elected assessors.

After Personal Property.

There will be an appointed force of capable and competent men in each county, under the deputy commissioner or board, who will do the work of assessing valuation of personal property in a manner that conforms with the state tax commission's interpretation of the Smith one-per-cent. tax limit law in its demand that all personal property be returned at its full value in money. This work will be carried on in both the county and city with equal attention.

Heretofore the great complaint has been that different districts covered by different assessors in each county have been given varied valuations, depending upon the competent or incompetent methods of the various elected assessors. It has been necessary for great additions to be made by the county auditors, the city boards of review or the state tax commission in order to equalize results.

Land, banks and public service corporations of the state are up to full value now under the broad powers of the state tax commission, said Judge Dittey. Tangible personal property and incorporated companies are pretty well assessed, due to the efforts of the various county auditors and city boards of review, he added. But now it remains for an organized, well directed and comprehensive system of personal property assessment under state supervision to be substituted for the present system to carry the work so far accomplished to continued success.

Repeal Is Sought.

One other thing is necessary to bring the Smith one-per-cent. tax limit law up to date. This is to be taken care of in an amendment to be submitted to the coming legislature. The amendment will provide a repeal of the 1910 limitation included in the Smith one-per-cent. law. The limitation provides that, in no event, shall the amount to be raised for general city purposes be in excess of the amount raised in 1910, plus a certain percentage of increase.

This is working hardship with a great many cities in the state, the percentage of increase not being sufficient to meet the increasing demands of many growing municipalities, especially in the event the amount raised in 1910 was below requirements for the succeeding year.

The proposed amendment will provide a maximum of ten mills, or one per cent. for current expenses, and not exceeding fifteen mills, or one and a half per cent., in the total levy for all purposes, including current expenses and interest and sinking fund purposes. Fifteen mills will be the absolute limit under any circumstances, popular vote for an increase above that limit or not.

This will provide an increase in the amount to be raised each successive year, depending solely upon the annual increase in the duplicate, and will by its own workings accomplish the salvation of the Smith one-per-ent. tax limit law.
